Today

In Florida,
A Canal Needed.
One Happy Man.
Come and See.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 21.

THIS IS written on the train from New York to Miami to be dropped off at West Palm Beach telegraph office. It is a comfortable, easy, interesting trip, to Washington on the Pennsylvania line, then to Richmond on the Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, then all the way south through Virginia, both the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida via the Seaboard Air Line.

The late President Warfield of the Seaboard, who forced his railroad through down the west coast and across Florida to Miami, rendered public service, and Florida should build a monument to him.

YOU ENTER a heavy steel Pullman car in the Pennsylvania's New York terminal at 9:30 a. m. and leave it in Miami at 6:55 p. m. the next evening. Only one night on the train.

This Florida is a wonderful country, a great natural sun parlor, room for millions on a peninsula, stretching down into the tropics, holding back the waters of the Gulf that absorb the sun's heat and travel eastward to warm our British cousins.

WHAT ALL American shipping interests need is a canal across Florida, connecting the Atlantic Ocean with the Gulf of Mexico, making it unnecessary for ships from eastern ports bound for the gulf states to travel all around the end of Florida, more than a thousand miles of sailing wasted on each trip.

J. I. DANIELS, energetic young president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, boards the train early, to talk about that.

It is a disgrace to this country, proof of sluggishness, that the canal from the Atlantic to the Gulf has been so long delayed.

The project interests and would benefit the nation.

Such a canal would be used almost entirely by American coastwise shipping.

Senator Long, who has recently moved from his home on the Gulf to Washington, might use some of the "beginner's" enthusiasm and push this canal project through. The shipping which it would serve, according to Mr. Daniels, of Jacksonville, would exceed by one-third the shipping that now passes through the Panama Canal. Construction of the canal would be very cheap, a trifle, as compared with Panama, and it would pay for itself the first few years.

JUST NOW, the Seaboard train is cutting across the heart of Florida, the brilliant sun is hot. Flowers, red, scarlet, purple, blaze in all directions. Men on the train have taken off coats and waistcoats.

Off to the left stands a high tower to the public by the late Edward Bok. It contains a chime of bells, and a park around it, a refuge for birds.

Birds do not like the chimes, not understanding that kind of music. But they like chimes better than shotguns.

Dozens of snow-white birds flap their way slowly across the level land and float on stagnant waters. They used to be slaughtered for the feathers that grow on the tops of their head. They are protected now.

THE FERTILE land is dotted with infinite numbers of lakes. The biggest of them, Okeechobee, just ahead, is the largest fresh water lake entirely within the United States borders.

Mysterious swamps are many, with gray moss hanging from the trees, and below alligators that doze through a century and more, active only when hungry, or when a rifle bullet disturbs their peace for the sake of an alligator-skin bag.

Great groves of orange and grapefruit trees are everywhere. Some, very old at Indiantown on the edge of Lake Okeechobee, as tall as big elms.

The grapefruit grow in unbelievable abundance, half a dozen at the end of one thin branch, and you may see from twenty to fifty, large, yellow and ripe, lying on the ground, under one tree, going to waste.

The health of the nation needs all the citrus fruit that this country could produce in Florida, the Gulf States and California. But distance and middlemen separate the consumer from the fruit, in our day of imperfect distribution.

WHAT MARVELS human industry, modern agricultural methods and capital could work in this state. That will come in time, not every thing can be accomplished in one hundred years. First must come the boom and the exploded boom, then the people and the finished product.

Everything in abundance here, fish, game, fruit, vegetables, sunshine, everything that human happiness requires.

When the late W. J. Conners, of Buffalo, presented to this writer one of his lots fronting on Lake Okeechobee, he said truly:

"You can catch fish from your front yard and shoot wild ducks in the backyard."

A few more years, a great deal more hard work, a few more men like Flagler, and Carl Fisher, a little more common sense on the subject of emigration, and this magnificent state will have its twenty million inhabitants, with such wealth and values as the wildest real estate boomers would never have dared suggest.

HOW BEAUTIFUL is happiness with no anxiety about tomorrow. The train stops, and a young colored man roars up in

MILITIAMEN STONED BY STRIKERS

Martial Law Looms in Hocking Valley as Auto Of Officers Is Wrecked

ATHENS, O., March 21.—(AP.)—An automobile, bearing Ohio National Guard officers to Mine No. 6 of the Sunday Creek Coal Company, where a strike of miners is in progress, was stoned by a crowd of men today. The windshield, windows and headlights of the machine were smashed, but the officers escaped injury.

The guard officers, sent into the strike region as observers for Adjt. Gen. Frank Henderson, were ordered to Millfield to relieve 10 other officers who had been on duty during the night.

STORMED BY MOB

As the car approached the mine, members of the crowd of men hurled rocks at it. The officers turned about and drove back to Nelsonville and reported the incident to Gen. Henderson at Columbus and Sheriff Wayne Wingett, of Athens County.

The guard observers estimated there were about 1,500 men in the Millfield district today, and many of them were said to be armed with rifles and shotguns.

All Ohio National Guard units were poised for immediate mobilization following Gov. George White's stern ultimatum for a cessation of "lawlessness" under penalty of martial law.

TRESTLE BLASTED

A series of minor outbreaks during the past month and a half was climaxed early Sunday by the dynamiting of a railroad spur trestle and the stoning of five mine officials by a group of men reported to number about 150.

"Professional agitators" were blamed by Gov. White for the disorders.

The strike in the Hocking Valley fields began February 1. The miners, already dissatisfied because of the refusal of the operators to recognize the United Mine Workers of America, walked out when a uniform wage scale was put into effect.

The scale, declared by miners to represent a 25 per cent wage cut, gives $3 a day to laborers and 35 cents a ton to loaders.

RELIEF FUND PASSED BY COUNCIL

Vote Allots $260,000 to Help City's Jobless as Emergency Cash Fades

BULLETIN.

City Council today passed a $260,000 relief appropriation by a unanimous vote. The money is to be used at the rate of $10,000 a day.

This action followed Mayor Kline's declaration that an emergency exists.

Mayor Charles H. Kline today declared a public emergency, thus giving City Council an opportunity to vote a $260,000 appropriation for relief.

Such an appropriation to be legal must receive a unanimous vote in Council. If approved, it will be distributed through the City Department of Welfare and will lift some of the immediate load from the Allegheny County Emergency Association.

The appropriation would increase the city deficit to more than $1,100,000, and may cause financial difficulties for the city government next fall. The Mayor, after hearing a plea by relief leaders, delayed his decision more than a week.

"NONE SHOULD STARVE"

Mayor Charles H. Kline and Controller James P. Kerr issued this joint statement:

"After careful thought and consideration and with full knowledge of our responsibility, we have recommended to Council that an emergency ordinance of $260,000 be passed. This will provide approximately $10,000 a day, the sum which we have been informed is necessary for direct relief.

"We are of the belief that none should starve in this community even though we must, under the laws of our commonwealth, place this additional burden practically upon the property owners, yet we, as public officials, cannot be unmindful of this world-wide condition and especially as to the situation now existing in the City of Pittsburgh, in that the funds of the Allegheny County Emergency Association supplying this relief are now exhausted.

HOPE FOR STATE AID

"We are informed that the Allegheny County Emergency Association will continue in its efforts to raise additional funds and we trust other plans will be successful, such as the Harris plan, and further, that state or additional governmental aid might be possible.

"Therefore, in the name of suffering humanity, we have taken this step."

Kline said relief would have to be administered by the Depart-

FEAR PILOT AND WOMAN KILLED

Search by Air Starts When Craft Fails to Reach Bettis Field in Storm

Mail sacks, the landing gear of an airplane, a woman's hat, a flying suit and a pair of moccasins were found on the west bank of the Ohio River near Wellsburg, W. Va., this afternoon, strengthening belief that the missing mail plane carrying Pilot Hal George and Dr. Carol S. Cole, St. Louis woman physician, had crashed in the vicinity.

Scout planes sent out from Bettis Field and Columbus, O., surveyed the region while a tugboat was ordered to search the river at that point for further trace of the plane believe forced down in a snow and sleet storm early today while en route from St. Louis to New York.

QUERY ON WEATHER

The plane, a single motored cabin Northruff craft for transporting mail, took off from Columbus at 1:17 a. m. and was last heard from when Pilot George radioed Bettis Field at 2:38 a. m. from the vicinity of Cambridge, O., scene of the Shenandoah disaster.

George asked for weather conditions in Pittsburgh and was told it was snowing and sleeting.

Many reports were received from residents of the Ohio Valley in the Steubenville district, as well as from persons residing near Burgettstown, Pa., 25 miles west of Pittsburgh, that an airplane, flying low and icicles hanging from its wings, was seen over that region early today, apparently seeking a landing place.

RACE WITH DEATH

Dr. Cole was permitted to board the plane at the Lambert St. Louis Field last night to enable her to make a dash to the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. William T. Bingham, reported seriously ill at Newark, N. J. The plane ordinarily carries no passengers, it was said.

Both George and Dr. Cole were said to be wearing parachutes, when they took off from Columbus.

Officials of the Transcontinental Air Express said they were hopeful that, finding of the flying suit, indicated the lives of the missing pair had been saved by leaping.

Word was flashed to Bettis Field from the Postoffice Department at Washington to aid in search for the missing plane. Pilots Joe Bartless and Walter Seyerle took off in two ships for the scene.

FIRST LIFE LOST IN PA. STRIKE

SCRANTON, Pa., March 21.—(AP.)—The insurgent strike of coal miners, entering its second week, today cost its first life, tied up the lower anthracite region and led to the arrest of women pickets.

An insurgent faction of the United Mine Workers is attempting to force equalization of working time at all mines. District union officials say they have no authority to compel owners to work mines they wish to keep idle.

Daniel Ruscitto, 30, of Kulpmont, killed himself because pickets on Saturday prevented him from returning to work at the Alaska Colliery. He had been idle more than a year when the call came to work.

Authorities at Jessup disclosed today that an attempt was made late Saturday night to blow up two buildings of the Du Pont Powder Company at Jessup, in which explosives were stored. Police blamed strike sympathizers.

In North Scranton, 90 pickets, including some women, were arrested after refusing to obey police orders to cease interfering with men going to the Marvine mines. This colliery was the scene of two clashes last week, and the arrest of 102 pickets Saturday.

Note on Pigeon Clue In Hunt For Lindy Baby

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 21.—(AP.)—Investigators in the Lindbergh kidnaping were excited for a time today by two notes, supposed to have been found on carrier pigeons. One was quickly revealed to be a hoax and the other could not be verified.

The investigators were otherwise without any tangible result in their long search for the missing baby.

The bulletin of the New Jersey state police, issued by Col. H. Norman Schwerzkopf, told of the two notes. Several hours later boys in East Stroudsburg, Pa., admitted writing one of them as a prank and tieing it to the leg of a dead pigeon.

NOTE IN CODE

The other note was reported to have been in code and found on a bird beaten down in a storm in Connecticut. The informant of the police said he did not see the note and he refused to name a local bootlegger who he said decoded it.

TRENTON, N. J., March 21.—The Lindbergh kidnaping investigation apparently has resolved itself into groping at almost any new "clues" and into covering old trails with dwindling optimism. ## FIGHT TO SAVE DESERTED BABY

Prompt care and treatment by doctors and sisters at the Roselia Hospital today were rewarded with improvement in the condition of a black-eyed baby girl, aged about 10 months, who was suffering from exposure when found abandoned in a Greenfield apartment doorway.

The sisters have named the waif Josephine Greenfield. It was found Saturday night by Charles E. Martin at 726 Montclair street, wrapped only in a blanket.

Police today sought the parents of an unidentified infant found dead from exposure early yesterday on a doorstep of a house at Celedine and Forty-fourth streets. No identification marks were found on the child, which, police believed, was less than a week old.

Trolley Fare Increase Hinted

A readjustment of street car fares was hinted today by the Traction Conference Board in a lengthy report to City Council.

The board, citing steadily declining revenues, described the situation as "acute" and suggested an early conference of railways and city representatives.

No flat raise was suggested by the board, but it was pointed out that, there being different classes of patronage, such as weekly pass riders, token riders and intermittent riders, the fare scale might undergo revision. The report, signed by Chairman Charles A. Finley, added:

"It is doubtful in the face of declining revenue if sufficient reduction in operating costs can be made to overcome this deficit and maintain service."

Frances Marion, Film Writer, Ill

HOLLYWOOD, March 21.—(INS.)—Suffering a complete breakdown from overwork, Frances Marion, scenario writer, was "very ill" in a hospital today, physicians reported.

Foshay Convicted, Given 15 Years

MINNEAPOLIS, March 21.—(AP.)—Wilbur B. Foshay and H. H. Henley, founders of the Foshay enterprises, were convicted on four of 17 counts of using the mails to defraud, by a Federal Court jury today.

Judge Joseph W. Molyneaux sentenced each to serve an aggregate of 15 years in the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and to pay a fine of $1,000 each.

Graf Off Gibraltar On Way to Brazil

GIBRALTAR, March 21.—(INS.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, bound from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Pernambuco, Brazil, passed the Strait of Gibraltar at 4:02 o'clock this afternoon. Over Palma, on Majorca Island, it flew so low that passengers waved their handkerchiefs at people in the streets.

Nude Sun-Bathing Battle Stumps Chicago Council

CHICAGO, March 21.—(AP.)—To permit nude sun-bathing or to put thumbs down on the idea has become such a warm question in Chicago that some councilmen today were reported in favor of dropping the matter until after the April 12 primaries.

Meanwhile, the war camps of both the ultra violet ray fans and their opponents were marshaling their forces for a showdown before the City Council Playground Committee tomorrow.

Not since the days when city aldermen fled in terror from the "moral question" of stockings and one-piece bathing suits for women on the beaches has so much controversy been kicked up over a similar subject.

A proposal to erect a stockade eight feet high and divided so as to segregate the men and women on the Touhy avenue beach on Lake Michigan, started all the fuss.

Led by Dr. Arne L. Suominen, members of an estimated army of 20,000 sun-ray devotees, are shouting for the stockade. They base their arguments on the benefits they hope to get from the violet rays this summer, while their opponent are retorting that the scheme is little removed from the nudist cults of Germany. They are crying thumbs down on the proposal in the name of tradition.

John P. Wilson, chairman of council committee, said:

"Eight members of the council committee want time to think. Personally, I've an open mind. Mary Garden says nude bathing is great. But there are others to think of."

Marshall Field III Unhurt in Hunt Fall

MELTON MOWBRAY, England, March 21. — (AP.) — Marshall Field III, an heir to the Chicago department store millions, escaped serious injury at a fox hunt Saturday while following the famous Quorn hounds. Field's horse fell at a hedge and rolled three times over the rider, who was not injured.

The Prince of Wales, hunting with the Cottesmore hounds in the same neighborhood, had to abandon the sport owing to an injury to his horse. The prince was unhurt.

J. V. THOMPSON IN COMA

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 21.—J. V. Thompson, former Fayette County coal magnate, is in a coma and is gradually sinking, according to a bulletin issued today by attending physicians. It was believed Thompson could not live more than a few days unless there was an unexpected change.

In the latest bulletin, Dr. Charles H. Smith, Thompson's personal physician, stated:

"The condition of Mr. Thompson is unchanged. He is gradually sinking."

Man Burned When Spark Fires Beard

Wrigley Heiress To Wed Architect

CHICAGO, March 21.—(INS.)—Chicago society buzzed today over the reported engagement of Jarvis Hunt, Jr., Chicago architect, and Betty Offield, granddaughter of the late William Wrigley, Jr. Although formal announcement will not be made immediately, the marriage is expected to be held next fall.

U. S. Flier Downed By Frozen Gear

WILMINGTON, Del., March 21.—(AP.)—Capt. Newton Longfellow, connected with the office of the chief of the air corps at Washington, landed his plane at the Bellanca Field at New Castle today on a flight from New York to the capital when its retractable landing gear became frozen. He finished the journey by train.

Tiger Under Knife, Zoo In Sympathetic Bedlam

NEW YORK, March 21.—(INS.)—Central Park Zoo was a bedlam of jungle cries today while Cornelius, 19-year-old Bengal tiger, submitted to an operation on his left forepaw.

Cornelius himself, accustomed to the ways of man in his 12 years of tenacy in the lion house, bore the incision with the traditional fortitude of his ancestors.

But not so his associates. Roars of restlessness came from Bad Dick, the Asiatic black leopard, who had felt the veterinarian's tweezers himself, and from Metrotone and Movietone, the lions captured by the Fox-Hearst expedition, who occupy adjoining cages.

The hippopotamus alone, wallowing in his tank of heated water, seemed unconcerned while Dr. Harry F. Nimphius, a veteran in this kind of surgery, put [illegible] and cut at two claws grown [illegible] the tiger's flesh through shee[illegible]ndolence.

Cornelius was secured [illegible]h a noose lowered through the [illegible]p of his case and made fast to the bars while a pole was stuck [illegible] his mouth and the injured pa[illegible] was pulled carefully outside the cage.

Dr. Nimphius then went about his task while Cornelius, chewing hard on the pole, grinned and bore it. Cornelius didn't wince once, but when Dr. Nimphius applied iodine, he growled a bit.

SALES TAX BACKERS MAKE CONCESSIONS TO SAVE MEASURE

LA GUARDIA'S OPPOSITION SOFTENED

Ready to Abandon Fight If Food, Medicine, Clothing Are Put on Exempt List

WASHINGTON, March 21 —(AP)— [illegible] more concessions to opposition to the changes in the billion dollar tax bill seemed in a fair way today of getting it across with its sales tax feature included.

Representative LaGuardia (Rep., N. Y.), a leader of the anti-sales tax forces that have dominated food and medicine levies written into the bill, said he would [illegible] objection to the measure if it could be spoken only for [illegible] was taken in the House. He said a different sentiment would exist when the House reached consideration of the bill [illegible].

MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

The New Yorker made the announcement after conference with newspapermen. He received a letter from [illegible] in which it was [illegible] substitute program [illegible] revenue bill would [illegible] $630,000,000 of the $1,100,000,000 needed to balance the budget in 1933.

The Ways and Means Committee already had decided to exempt additions [illegible] the 2.25 per cent manufacturers' sales tax and planned [illegible] this afternoon proposals [illegible] all food, clothing [illegible]. Acting Chairman Crisp said striking out such levies would reduce the $595,000,000 yield expected of the sales taxes by $345,000,000 — which would have to be made up in other ways.

LaGuardia said he was willing for excise taxes to be levied on automobiles, [illegible], electric refrigerators and [illegible] other things not considered necessities of life.

CONFERENCE HELD

Crisp [illegible] conferring with him and Representative Doughton, Dem., of North [illegible], leaders of the opposition forces, and Representative Snell, of New York, Republican leader, and Representative Rainey, of Illinois, Democratic leader, with a view to a formal conference probably tonight in an effort to reach an agreement before the House [illegible] consideration of the bill tomorrow.

Doughton said he would continue to oppose the principle of the sales tax, but conceded that with the removal of the necessities of life from the levy, there was more possibility of its being adopted.

JUDGE SCORES MINE ALIENS

Five Ohio miners, four of them aliens, in Pittsburgh to attend a rally of the National Miners Union Saturday night, were severely scored by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Central Police Court today.

Police stopped their car as they were returning and found much Communistic literature, they said. One of the men, Charles Pubal of Fairpoint, O., driver, police said, had neither driver's license nor owner's card.

The others, who admitted being aliens, were Anton Sarich and Mike Miller, of Bellaire, O.; Pete Zuvella, of Shadyside, O., and Steve Howat, of Fairpoint, O.

Questioning the men, Magistrate Rothenberg learned they had been in this country from 18 to 25 years. He said:

"You have no right to find fault with this government, when you have enjoyed its benefits for years without becoming citizens. If the country is not good enough for you or you don't like the way it is run, go back to your own country."

He held all the prisoners for investigation.

REDUCING FORCE

The Allegheny County Emergency Association began pruning its payroll today as funds raised by public subscription neared exhaustion, with prospect that 6,000 laborers and "white collar" men and women will have been paid off by Wednesday.

The Association today laid off 804 laborers on city jobs, 342 workers in hospitals and institutions. Notices to quit were also sent to 156 clerical workers at the University of Pittsburgh, Duquesne University, Carnegie Tech and the United States Bureau of Mines, all paid for out of the association's funds raised by public subscription in the Welfare Fund drive last fall.

Harris Relief Plan Chief Hope for Needy

Money raised by the family-help-family plan of Senator Frank J. Harris will be poured at once into the treasuries of the relief organizations which have been receiving aid from the Emergency Association.

Direct relief funds of the Emergency Association are being handled by the Family Welfare Association, Jewish Family Welfare Association, Lutheran Inner Mission, Conference of Catholic Charities, American Red Cross and Association for the Improvement of the Poor.

Every effort will first be directed to obtaining large gifts. Then persons able to care for a small number of families or for one family at $100 each will be sought. Care for a family for three months will be undertaken with each $100 gift.

Clubs, religious and social organizations will be urged to provide funds for one or more families and finally groups of persons will be asked to join in providing for a family.

The condition of the Emergency Association's finances and the long period before city bond issue funds can be made available, makes the Harris plan the chief hope of 28,000 needy families.

GARDEN DRIVE OPENS

Plans for gardens in all parts of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County this spring are being made by the Allegheny County Thrift Garden committee in co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce and the community councils.

A survey of available public land is being made by city and county officials. Large tracts of producing ground are known to be available in outlying territory.

IDENTIFY SEVEN IN HOLDUPS

Seven of 10 bandit suspects, said by police to have been implicated in a series of holdups in Turtle Creek Valley and in Westmoreland County, were partially identified yesterday at a standup in city detective headquarters, police said.

Five of the suspects were arrested in McKees Rocks last week after a club holdup in Coraopolis and were turned over to City Detectives Walter Monaghan and Thomas Morgan. They said they were David Luterman, 23, of 407 McKee place; Morris Lampenfeld, 19, of 1832 Rose street; Joe Hanlon, 19, of 32 Emma street; Milton Pittler, 26, of 332 Dinwiddie street, and Malcolm Russ, 20, of 3027 Terrace street.

The other five men, who gave their names as Jack Thomas, 26, and Patsy Thomas, 19, brothers, of Turtle Creek; Maynard Baker, 20, of Braddock; Joseph Vinski, 26, of East Pittsburgh, and Harold Doriot, 19, of Beechwood boulevard, were being held in connection with holdups in the Turtle Creek Valley. All except Lampenfeld, Pittler and Baker were partially identified, police said.

BOTH PARTIES GET DRYS' WARNING

Anti-Saloon League Puts Referendum Backers in House on 'Blacklist'

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Dry organizations which nailed the Eighteenth Amendment into the Constitution hoisted the flag of "no surrender" today and warned both Republican and Democratic parties that any deviation from the prohibition cause, either in platform or in candidates, will be punished at the polls in November.

As for the 187 members of the House who voted in favor of resubmission last week, they have been put on the Anti-Saloon League's "blacklist" and will be opposed for renomination and reelection. The league takes the position that a vote to resubmit the Eighteenth Amendment is a wet vote and should be treated accordingly.

ASK ENFORCEMENT

The least that the organized drys will be willing to accept from both parties this year in their platforms is a plank calling for strict enforcement. They will not insist that the platforms specifically indorse the Eighteenth Amendment by name, but that is as far as the league and its affiliated organizations are willing to go by way of compromise.

Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league, made known the drys' position in the face of increasing evidence that both the Republican and Democratic platforms are going to present some hope for the opponents of prohibition.

So far as the Democrats are concerned, it is now generally conceded that their platform will contain a moist plank, modelled probably along the "home rule" idea advanced by John J. Raskob, and concurred in by leaders of Eastern and Middle Western states that will have a majority of the delegates at Chicago.

REPUBLICAN TREND

As for the Republicans, agitation for at least a referendum plank is growing enormously under the leadership of eastern leaders, and supported in some instances by members of President Hoover's cabinet. The Republican anti-drys, in fact, are fairly confident they will be able to write a referendum plank into the platform at Chicago. The only thing that can stop it, they say, is for President Hoover to flatly reject it, which thus far he has not done. Nor do they believe he will.

Meanwhile action by the Senate Manufactures Committee on the Bingham 4 per cent beer bill favorably reported Saturday by a subcommittee, will await the return of Senator La Follette (Rep.), of Wisconsin, its chairman. La Follette left the capital Sunday for his home state and is expected to be absent about a week.

Senator Bingham (Rep.), of Connecticut, author of the bill to legalize 4 per cent beer, will ask for a vote by the Senate regardless of action of the committee.

He said:

"I hardly believe we will obtain more than 25 votes in the Senate at this time for the return of beer, regardless of the tremendous weight of the report in denouncing the intolerable conditions under prohibition."

VICTIM TELLS OF RIOT DEATH

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 21.—A demonstration in the court room, where a mine superintendent and eight mine guards are on trial for murder was quickly quashed today and the court ordered that at the first sign of it being repeated it would clear the court room of spectators.

Frank Bialon, who was shot, was testifying against the defendants, charged with the fatal shooting of Mike Philipovich in the strike riot at Arnold City last June. He said that when the shooting started, he was too frightened to run for five minutes. There was a tittering through the room and the court halted the trial to administer a rebuke and threat to clear the room.

Bialon identified the eight mine guards as having fired shots. He said 35 or 40 shots were fired. He said Philipovich was shot while standing on the porch of his store. The witness said he fled to a nearby house and was shot while going home, after being found by officers.

On cross-examination Bialon denied that he was a member of the National Miners' Union.

Sees Vets' Bonus Chances Lessened

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(INS.)—Chances of passage of the bill to pay the remainder of the soldiers' bonus have lessened in the past week or so, Representative Johnson (Rep.), of South Dakota, ranking member of the House Veterans Committee, declared today following a conference with President Hoover.

Johnson said that a number of members who had favored the proposition to give the World War veterans the remaining 50 per cent of their adjusted service compensation certificates, had been forced to change their position as a result of the fight on the tax bill.

GIBBONS FETED IN TOKIO

Representatives of the Japanese army, navy and foreign office and Japanese newspapermen were among those present. Gibbons expressed his appreciation of official Japanese co-operation during his recent coverage of events in Manchuria and Shanghai.

Gibbons spent half an hour at the American embassy conferring with Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes. Forbes is leaving tomorrow for San Francisco aboard the liner President Coolidge.

Gibbons plans to sail for home aboard the Empress of Japan from Yokohama at 3 p. m. tomorrow. He will stop off at Honolulu for a few days and board the President Coolidge when it arrives there.

Gold Dinner Service For 'King of Kings'

ADDIS ABABA, March 21.—(AP.)—Nothing is too good for a "king of kings," so Emperor Haile Selassie, of Abyssinia, has his special occasion meals served on a dinner set of solid gold. Lesser occasions bring out the solid silver service, while "raw meat" dinners served the braves utilize no dishes at all.

a powerful runabout of uncertain age. The train blocks his way, but has he not a powerful engine? Is he not out to enjoy himself?

Driving at high speed, he cuts across an empty lot with deep holes that bounce him and his delighted companion to the top of the car. To avoid an early model T driven by a white lady, the runabout driver "steps on it," climbs over the railroad tracks, goes down a bank and is off to continue enjoyment of speed and power.

Vincent Astor, in his big Chrysler, Albert Lasker, in his sixteen-cylinder Cadillac; "Flo" Ziegfeld, in his Dusenberg; all put together, do not know the automobile joys of that Florida driver, in his 1915 somethin'-or-other.

You may not be as happy as the man in the old runabout, but you will be glad you came.

TRUCE TERMS REACHED IN SHANGHAI

Japanese and Chinese Agree On Conditions Calling For Troops' Withdrawal

By DIXON HOSTE
International News Service

SHANGHAI, March 21.—Peace parleys held almost daily for more than a week resulted today in an agreement between the Chinese and Japanese representatives based on three main points:

1—Chinese troops are to remain where they are at present (outside the area within a radius of 12.4 miles of Shanghai).

2—Japanese forces are to withdraw at a time and for a distance to be arranged later.

3—A joint commission, to be composed of Chinese, Japanese, British, American, French and Italian military and diplomatic representatives, is to be set up to supervise and certify the carrying out of the first two points of the agreement.

The terms were decided upon this afternoon.

A formal conference at which a cessation of hostilities and the details of the Japanese withdrawal will be discussed is to be convened Wednesday morning. It will be attended by both military and diplomatic authorities.

Among the Chinese military representatives who will attend this conference are Gen. Chiang Kiung-Nai, commander-in-chief of the 19th Route Army, and Gen. Huang Chiang, his chief of staff.

U. S. Withdraws Six Destroyers from China

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(AP.)—The quieting down of troubles at Shanghai led the Navy yesterday to order withdrawal of six destroyers and as many submarines, together with attending service ships.

The destroyers will be brought back to the Pacific Coast next month, and the submarines to Hawaii.

The Army transport Chaumont, which has been standing by at Shanghai since early in February when it carried there the 31st Infantry from Manila, also has been ordered to resume its interrupted sailing schedule. It is to leave Manila March 30 for San Francisco, but the regiment it took to China will be left behind.

The flagship of the Asiatic squadron, the 10,000-ton cruiser Houston with Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor aboard, will remain at Shanghai with a considerable number of destroyers and other small craft.

Japanese Planes Bomb Chinese Bandits

MUKDEN, March 21.—(INS.)—Japanese bombing planes today inflicted heavy casualties upon a group of several hundred bandits at a point 15 miles south of Mukden, according to an announcement by Japanese army headquarters here.

Gen. Hsichia was rushing reinforcements to the town of Fuyu, in the Sungari River area, to recapture it from Chinese rebels who seized it several days ago. Hsichia is one of the Chinese leaders of the new Manchurian government.

Chinese bandits attacked a passenger train on the Chinese Eastern railway below Chinchow, killing a Japanese sergeant.

15 More U. S. Ships Ordered From China

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(INS.)—Fifteen United States war vessels on duty at Shanghai were ordered to return to Manila and American ports, the Navy Department announced today.

Last week five destroyers were ordered to Manila. The departure of the 20 vessels will still leave the major part of the Asiatic fleet as well as the 31st Infantry Regiment stationed at Shanghai under Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor, commander of the Asiatic fleet.

Japs Get Manchuria Bid for Recognition

TOKIO, March 21.—(AP.)—Japan's reply to the bid of the new Manchurian government for official recognition was sent to Changchun today.

Woman Admits Radio Hoax To Hear Officer's Voice

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., March 21.—(AP.)—Mrs. Winnifred I. Woodard has admitted she perpetrated a radio hoax that had authorities searching three days for a supposedly grief-stricken widow and her daughter to save them from death.

At the general store she and her husband operate at Boulder Creek, Mrs. Woodard said she had not meant to cause such a stir.

The messages which Friday night led Officer Floyd Cullings, Los Angeles police radio broadcaster, to send pleas over the air to a "Mrs. W. J. Brown" were intended only as an innocent diversion, Mrs. Woodard said.

Mrs. Woodard confessed to Deputy Sheriff Joseph D. Kenney she had signed the message in which the supposed "Mrs. Brown" said she was on her way to San Francisco with her "little girl" to end everything. He quoted Mrs. Woodard:

"Officer Cullings' voice was so deep and manly I at once became infatuated with it. I don't know why; I have been happily married for 25 years."

Mrs. Woodard told the officer she was afraid her husband would discover her pretense, "so I decided to write the suicide notes and let Officer Cullen think I was dead."

Mrs. Woodard, who is middle-aged, said Winifred I. Brown was her maiden name.

Playhouse for Princess, Gift of Welsh, Burns

LLANDOGO, Wales, March 21.—(AP.)—The pretty life-sized playhouse which the Welsh people built for little Princess Elizabeth, granddaughter of King George, was destroyed by fire today as it was being taken to London to be presented to her.

It burned along the roadside near here in spite of all the efforts of a bucket brigade formed by the villagers to put out the fire.

The model of a Welsh cottage, large enough for the princess to play in and believed to be the finest of its kind ever built, was being hauled on a trailer from Cardiff to London by a steam tractor. It was intended to be presented to the princess on her sixth birthday next month.

The Duke and Duchess of York formally accepted the gift on her behalf at Cardiff last Wednesday. A complete set of furniture, which was being transported separately, was saved from destruction.

WIFE SEES STURGEON VETERAN SLAIN BY MASKED BANDIT

ROBBER FIRES AS EX-MINER OPENS DOOR

Flees After Threatening Woman; Trail Lost in Snow by Officer, Aides

From her bed early today, Mrs. Alice Mouffe saw a masked, well-dressed bandit kill her husband at Sturgeon, near Oakdale.

Paul Mouffe, 47, and his wife, 48, were awakened by a rap on the door, before dawn.

As Mouffe, Belgian veteran of the World War, opened the door which leads from the bedroom, the gunman fired one shot, stepped over Mouffe's body and barked at Mrs. Mouffe:

"Give me the money"

When she told him she had no money he fled.

Constable R. A. Balmer and neighbors formed a posse which followed the gunman's footsteps in the deep snow for several blocks, then lost trace.

Mrs. Mouffe called a physician, but her husband was dead before he arrived. The bullet pierced his abdomen.

The wife told police she knew of no reason why her husband should have been chosen as a gunman's victim. The Coroner's report quoted police as saying that Mouffe conducted a speakeasy.

Mouffe, wounded in the World War, came to Sturgeon soon after. A miner, he had been idle recently.

KIDNAPER GETS 1 TO 20 YEARS

WARREN, O., March 21.—(AP)—John De Marko, 30, of Youngstown, the second of two men indicted in connection with the kidnaping of 11-year-old James De Jute, of Niles, today pleaded guilty to a charge of harboring and concealing a kidnaped person and was sentenced to one to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

De Marko also was indicted on a charge of kidnaping with intent to extort, which carries a penalty of life imprisonment, but was permitted by Prosecutor G. H. Birrell to plead to the lesser charge.

Dowell Hargraves, 31, of Youngstown, has been given a life sentence for his part in the abduction of the boy, who was seized near his home March 2 and found three days later in an abandoned gambling house near Youngstown, where he was being guarded by Hargraves and De Marko. De Marko, however, was not identified as one of the actual kidnapers.

STRIFE FEARED AS FREE STATE ARMY TRAINS

Trouble Looms Over Oath To King, Debts; De Valera Replies to Chamberlain

International News Service.

BELFAST, March 21.—Northern Ireland, closely watching the activities of the new Irish Free State government under Eamon De Valera, today heard reports that the Republican army had resumed illegal training.

Some concern was evidenced over these reports and their obvious connection with the announced intention of De Valera to abolish the oath of allegiance to King George and to cancel further payments of land annuities to Great Britain.

The warning by Neville Chamberlain, British Cancellor of the Exchequer, that England would oppose such action on the part of the Free State was pointed to as a fairly good sign that trouble may be ahead.

De Valera was expected to go ahead with his plans regardless of this stand by the mother country, and this situation, combined with the reports of the illegal army maneuvers, has caused some apprehension in government circles here.

DUBLIN, March 21.—(INS.)—If any bitterness develops between England and the Irish Free State as a result of the new government's program to abolish the oath of allegiance to the King and to discontinue payment of land annuities, it will be England's fault and not that of the Irish, according to Eamon de Valera, president of the Free State Council.

Issuing a formal statement in reply to the warning of Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, that Britain would view with "the gravest concern" any attempt to carry out the new Free State government program, De Valera said:

"At this stage I shall only say that if the bitterness and differences are revived the fault will not lie with the Irish people."

MARY PICKFORD HOLDS PRISON LIFE LUCKY

600 Laugh as Actress Extolls 'Privilege' of Workhouse Confinement

NEW YORK, March 21.—(AP.)—Mary Pickford painted a picture of Hollywood for the inmates on Welfare Island Workhouse yesterday—a Hollywood where the stars go to bed at 9 o'clock and are in perpetual fear of the wolf at the door.

Six hundred men, women and children, whites and Negroes, snickered respectfully when "America's Sweetheart" told them:

"Look on the depression and setbacks such as you boys and girls have had here as a privilege. Napoleon and Lincoln were made by hard times. You're getting spiritual exercise for your muscles."

9 O'CLOCK BEDTIME

Appearing as one of a series of Sunday afternoon lecturers in the cold, green-grey prison, Miss Pickford described Hollywood as she knew it, recounted some of her experiences in the history of the motion picture industry and answered many questions from her breathless listeners. She said:

"No matter how interesting a party is or whether we are in the middle of looking at a picture, when 9 o'clock comes Joan Crawford goes home to bed. I don't know anything about these Hollywood parties you hear about. I've never seen any."

Douglas Fairbanks, her husband, she said, "spends about five hours a day looking after his health."

Charlie Chaplin "if he had invented some kind of soap would be worth $100,000,000, while now he's comparatively poor."

POLA NEGRI 'FINE'

Pola Negri is a "fine girl" despite the fact that "she's a foreigner and her ways aren't our ways."

Greta Garbo didn't have "that exotic something" until she came to America.

Clara Bow is a "flash of red going through the atmosphere," but Mary may do a picture with her.

When her audience laughed at her description of the advantages of prison, Miss Pickford grasped the stem of the microphone tighter and waged a finger at them:

"I mean it, too. Remember that for me, will you? And thank God for this experience. I'm with you, boys and girls, and I'm crazy about you."

Then she blew two kisses into the antiseptic-smelling room, struggled into a mink coat and was escorted to her limousine.

GERMANY PAYS GOETHE HONOR

WEIMER, Thuringia, Germany, March 21.—(AP.)—One hundred years ago tomorrow, on March 22, 1832, Johann Polfgang Von Goethe, Germany's literary genius, died at this little Thuringian capital, where he spent 56 years of his life, most of the time a high official of the state.

Today from every part of Germany, government officials, representatives of learned universities and distinguished men of letters were hurrying here to take part in memorial exercises in Goethe's honor.

The memorial exercises actually began last night with the performance of "Goetz Von Berlichingen," the first important drama of the career that was to be crowned with "Faust," Goethe's masterpiece. Today Thomas Mann, internationally famous German novelist and Nobel prize winner, delivered an address on the life of the great master, and there was a performance of "Egmont."

Scan Carrier Pigeon Clue In Lindy Hunt; Sailor Cleared of Blame

SAILOR BACK IN JAIL

Henry "Red" Johnson, sailor suiter of Betty Gow, Lindbergh nursemaid, was returned from the Lindbergh estate, where he had been questioned since Saturday morning to the Jersey City jail last night.

Denying that any valuable information had been obtained from him, Jersey City police this afternoon announced that Johnson had been "exonerated" by them of any complicity in the kidnaping and that he would be turned over to immigration authorities along with his brother.

In today's news bulletin, Col. Schwarzkopf said:

"Two notes carried by carrier pigeons have been reported to us. The first one is alleged to have been a note in code. This was supposed to have been taken off a carrier pigeon which was beaten down by a heavy storm in Connecticut and upon being decoded by a local bootlegger it read approximately as follows:

" 'All lives unsafe. Kid in yacht. Making no port. Well trained care, outside United States jurisdiction. Return bird.'

"The informant did not see this note and had only the word of the unidentified bootlegger to go by. No additional information was available and the informant refused to identify the source of his information."

NOTE ON DEAD BIRD

Later Col. Schwarzkopf revealed that the information came from South Kent, Conn.

The other pigeon clue was reported by Schwarzkopf in this manner:

"Mrs. Charles E. Stein, Lehighton, Pa., and Arthur L. Bond, of East Stroudsburg, Pa., brought to these headquarters a dead pigeon with a note folded and attached to the band on the pigeon's leg. The band bore the number A. U.-30-S-34181, and the note read:

"Pulled off the job in fine order. Made a clean getaway. No one even suspects me. Will meet you Monday as planned. Will have the dough with me. Yours, 'Red.'

"The band is such as would not particularly indicate that this had anything to do with the Lindbergh kidnaping. However, the investigation is continuing to determine the exact meaning and significance of this communication."

SECRET GRILLINGS

The rest of Schwarzkopf's statement was a summary of the police activity of the past 24 hours and contained nothing of a promising nature as far as leading toward a solution of the crime was concerned. The statement concluded:

"Several people were interviewed at these headquarters yesterday purporting to have information concerning the case. In each of these instances the information was offered in confidence, and this confidence will be respected. All of the information so received is now being investigated.

"Investigators are out all over the state following up information received and no reports are available as yet from any of them."

Miss Theresa Dersi, Wertsville, N. Y., unemployed stenographer, who previously had told of seeing a suspicious group in a stalled automobile a few hours before the kidnaping, "offered nothing of importance" to the case when interviewed again, Schwarzkopf declared.

Find Clue to Boy Taken 4 Years Ago

EMERYVILLE, Cal., March 21.—(INS.)—An investigation was underway today into the identity of a nine-year-old child resembling William J. (Billy) Gaffney, mysteriously kidnaped in Brooklyn five years ago. The boy has been living on a farm here for two years.

City engineer Ralph S. Hawley said the child so resembled the Gaffney youngster that he wrote to New York police for a description of the Gaffney boy, who was kidnaped when he was four years old.

Empress Zita Trip To America Denied

The former Emperor, last to occupy the Austro-Hungarian throne, died at Funchal 10 years ago after having been banished and refused haven by most of Europe.

Judge Scores Firing Shots at Rum Ships

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 21.—(AP.)—Characterizing the action of the Coast Guard in firing 470 machine gun bullets at the rum runner Eaglet as "a rather sad commentary on the administration of law in this country," United States District Judge Ira Lloyd Letts today, in charging a jury, denounced the practice of using machine gun bullets for the purpose of stopping rum runners.

Nicholas to Resume Rank At King Carol's Court

NICE, March 21.—(AP.)—Prince Nicholas of Rumania told the Associated Press today he was going back home to take up his old place in the court of his brother, King Carol.

He made this disclosure of his plans when he reached here at the wheel of the automobile he drove down from Paris in the grueling Paris-Nice motor race. He was well up in the running, but the official results will not be announced until Friday.

Prince Nicholas angered King Carol by marrying Madame Jana Deletj, a commoner, against the King's wishes. There was some talk of stripping him of his royal prerogatives, but the Prince left with his bride for Paris and Carol took no drastic action.

Recently the King sent an emissary to see Nicholas, and presumably it was he who succeeded in patching up the quarrel.

SEEK CAR HERE AS LINDY CLUE

Every police radio car in the city joined a search early today for a mud-splattered Buick sedan, bearing New York licenses, as a possible "lead" in the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

Luciene Esther, of 422 Arch street, told North Side police that she had seen the car being driven rapidly down Erie street, with two men in the front seat and a baby, swathed in blankets, between them.

The car, she said, was covered with mud and the license plates so dirty that the numbers could not be read.

RESCUE WAITED BY MRS. BIDDLE

NENANA, Alaska, March 21.—(AP.)—Stranded by heavy trails and deep snow in the frigid interior of Alaska about 200 miles southwest of here, Mrs. Edward M. Biddle, Philadelphia society woman, today awaited rescue by dog team or airplane.

Mrs. Biddle, who went into interior Alaska last fall, equipped for a six months' book material gathering tour, arrived at the Katishna home of Fannie Quigley, famous pioneer woman of the territory, January 12.

She had planned to remain there two or three days but snow and trails have combined to extend the visit to more than two months. Word has filtered out from the remote settlement that Mrs. Biddle was restless, anxious to be on her way, and would like to have a plane sent for her.

No plans are being made to send the plane, however, pending word from Mike Cooney, veteran musher, who for more than a month has been bucking the heavy trails, snow and cold to reach isolated Katishna. The settlement is on the upper reaches of a branch of the Katishna River.

If Cooney is unable to reach Fannie Quigley's home, officials said efforts will be made to send the regular mail plane from Diamond after Mrs. Biddle.

3 PROBES OPEN IN AIR CRASH

REDLANDS, Cal., March 21.—(INS.)—Three separate investigations today were under way as a result of the wreck of an American Airways monoplane that took seven lives.

The ship rocketed into a high-tension electric wire and crashed in an apple orchard north of here while en route from Phoenix to Los Angeles in a fog Saturday night. Six men were killed instantly and their bodies burned beyond recognition. The seventh died Sunday in a hospital.

Officials said fog completely obliterated visibility and ceiling.

The three investigations were being conducted by the United States Department of Commerce, Coroner A. W. U'Ren and American Airways officials.

It meant more to her than any other, she said.

King George asked especially for "King of Kings" and "Silver Threads Among The Gold."

ROME ENTERS SOLEMNITY OF HOLY WEEK

Easter Broadcasts to U. S. Of Chimes, Sermon to Be Climax of Sacred Season

By THOMAS K. SALMON

VATICAN CITY, March 21—The bells of St. Peters tolling for Palm Sunday mass usher in the week of religious pageantry that symbolizes the crucifixion and resurrection.

On Easter Sunday, the chimes [illegible] bells of Santa Maria Maggiore will be broadcast to the United States, bringing to a close the [illegible] ceremonies that make Rome a mecca for Christians in Holy Week.

In the [illegible] churches of Rome St. Peter's, Santa Maria Maggiore and St. John Lateran, the [illegible] shadows so called because during the service the [illegible] are put out, one will be held on the afternoons of Holy Wednesday, Holy Thursday and Good Friday.

WASHING OF ALTAR

During the services of Holy Thursday, a [illegible] ceremony not celebrated anywhere else in the world—the washing of the major altars—to be held in St. Peter's. Seven gallons of wine and balsam will be poured over the altar cloth. The same day the holy oils for all the parishes of Rome will be blessed in St. John in Lateran. On Holy Saturday in the same church the new priests are ordained.

At 12:30 p. m. Pittsburgh time, Easter Day Cardinal Cerretti will preach a sermon in Santa Maria Maggiore that will be broadcast to the United States. Following the sermon, the choral singing in the Liberian chapel, and a concert on the bells of the church will be put on the air.

POPE'S RITES PRIVATE

Before the retirement of the Pope into the seclusion of the Vatican, in 1870, he presided at all the Holy Week ceremonies. Since then, the Pontiff has taken no public part, but celebrates the holy rites alone in his private chapel.

On the morning of Holy Monday, however, he holds a simple service at which he gives communion to the lay members of his ante-chamber. The same ceremony is repeated Holy Thursday.

On Easter Day the Pope will celebrate mass in the Sistine Chapel and will give holy communion to members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican and to other distinguished persons specially invited.

SQUIRE ON TRIAL SECOND TIME

Justice of the Peace John O. Metz, of Kennedy Township today went on trial charged with extortion for the second time in three months. Constable Edward Brubach, of Bellevue, is a co-defendant.

On his first trial, Metz pleaded no defense and is awaiting sentence, which was delayed because of his illness at the time of his plea.

Assistant District Attorney Roy T. Clunk told the jury he would show that Brubach had arrested at least eight persons on state liquor law violation charges and taken them to Metz's office, where the charge had been altered and a fine imposed. Clunk told the jury that this was not within Metz's powers as he must either discharge a liquor law prisoner or hold him for court.

HOOVER LAUDS KOCH, GERM DISCOVERER

Man Who Isolated Tubercle Bacillus Paid Tribute On Eve of Anniversary

[illegible] News Service

WASHINGTON, March 21—Anticipating the fiftieth anniversary celebration Thursday of the discovery of the tuberculosis germ by Robert Koch, President Hoover today issued a statement calling upon the nation to join with the rest of the world [illegible] to the progress [illegible] to human welfare of the famous German doctor, the President said.

Next Thursday the fiftieth anniversary of Robert Koch's discovery of the tubercle bacillus will be commemorated throughout the world. Unlimited honor will be paid to the memory of the famous man who almost single handed directed the feet of nations toward the path of victory in the relentless, almost violent war against the destructive forces of nature.

"In the United States the benefits of Koch's discovery loom far in light of the fact that the death rate from tuberculosis is now but one-fourth what it was in 1882, and the search for a specific cure, as yet undiscovered, grows steadily forward along the lines he mapped out."

VIKING WOMAN AGAIN AT OARS

NEW ORLEANS, March 21—(AP.)—Randi Letchi, Wisconsin's 48-year-old scrubwoman again is headed for the Gulf of Mexico and the tropical sun she hopes will cure her backache.

Taking her savings of $150 last summer she started rowing 2,000 miles south down the Mississippi. But rowing was slow and winter came. Finally she accepted a lift, journeying here by Mississippi lowboat, and then resuming her rowing to the sea.

Last week Capt. D. Dantin mail boat skipper saw her heading back north from Barataria Bay, only 14 miles from her destination, and he wondered why. Back from his next trip, the skipper said today he had talked to the scrubwoman. She told him she had smelled the tang of the salt air, but with it came wintry blasts, and she backed up into the protecting shores of Bayou St. Denis.

Again she is bending to the oars and soon hopes to be camping on the coast. Basking in the sun she will fish from her battered boat—far from unscrubbed floors. That's how she has said she wants to spend the rest of her life.

Detectives William Stewart and Benny Banatrowski testified that Stinson had hired B. Blunt, a Negro expressman, went to a recently closed restaurant at 946 Liberty avenue, loaded the equipment on Blunt's truck and took it to Golden's store.

Both Blunt and Golden identified Stinson.

'GANGS' BATTLE HERE—ALL IN FUN

'Machine Guns' Bark But It's Only Boys At Play

There was a time when young America contented itself with emulating the heroic deeds of the pioneers of the United States. In idle moments they re-enacted George Washington's battles in Western Pennsylvania. Then came the strife between roving bands of Indians and cowboys.

With the Twentieth Century, however, came another game—playing gangster.

In various sections of Pittsburgh, bands of boys, armed with pistols and toy machine guns, rove the land looking for foes. Once spied, the staccato of the machine gun breaks the afternoon stillness of the neighborhood.

The guns, however, are harmless—the ammunition being merely powder caps. Just another sign of progress, or maybe its another sign of spring.

SCHOOL BLAST INJURES 12

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 21 (AP).—A mysterious explosion and fire which injured 12 persons in the Springfield Public High School had been added today to the list of apparently incendiary fires which have cost two lives and $1,000,000 property damage recently in Central Illinois towns. Investigators said they did not know the nature of the first explosion in the high school building last night, but the two blasts which followed in close succession were believed to have been caused by escaping gas.

Others of the mysterious fires occurred in Lincoln where two lives were lost and $500,000 worth of property destroyed at Bloomington and at Urbana. Police guards were placed on all public buildings at Urbana to prevent further possible property destruction.

A dozen men were gathered around the table when the detectives entered, and they were ordered out after Lucas was arrested. The table was chopped to pieces after the cloth was removed. Later Weilman, an employe, was arrested.

SOVIET TROOPS SHOOT WOMEN

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 21 — (AP) — Reports reaching here from Rumanian villages on the Ukrainian border today said a number of women were shot down by Soviet troops in a bloody Sunday yesterday while defending their churches.

The reports described alleged eye-witness accounts of Soviet church-wrecking activities which were resisted by the villagers.

In the Ukrainian village of Tasak across the river from the Rumanian village of Kitzani, they said, Soviet soldiers attempted to destroy a church and were faced by a crowd of 300 women. The soldiers fired their machine guns and killed and wounded several, the reports said.

BANDITS WRECK TRAIN, KILL 2

MEXICO CITY, March 21 — (AP) — Eleven Americans had arrived at their destinations in Mexico safe, but late, today, after escaping from bandits who wrecked an international passenger train yesterday near Maricala, Queretaro State.

The train carried three Pullman cars from St. Louis and San Antonio. The fireman and an express messenger were killed, but soldiers, acting as a train escort, routed the bandits before they could rob the passengers.

Officials of the Mexican National Railways today considered augmenting train escorts. Soldiers scoured the hills above Maricala seeking the bandits.

The wreck was caused by a rail which the bandits had loosened and which the train hit at normal speed. Hardly had the dust settled when the bandits, about 30 in number, closed in. The detachment of soldiers was immediately organized and drove back the attackers, killing one of them.

HALL HEARING DELAY SEEN

Illness of Supreme Court Justice William I. Schaffer, confined with a severe cold since Wednesday, may prevent the arguments on appeal of Schenley Farms and Oakland citizens against the Nicola site, Fifth and Ruskins avenues, for the proposed Town Hall.

After a hearing in January, the court ordered the arguments to be made in Pittsburgh before a full bench at the present session, which is to end Wednesday or Thursday.

If Justice Schaffer is not able to take the bench before the session here closes, the arguments cannot be heard until April 11, when the full bench is to sit again in Philadelphia.

DETROIT RATE PARLEYS SET

DETROIT, March 21 (INS.) —Further conferences were to be held this week between city and utility officials to effect rate reductions.

One meeting will be held by Mayor Frank Murphy and Clarence E. Wilcox, corporation counsel, with officials of the Michigan Bell Company.

Murphy believes a satisfactory reduction can be decided at the conference, avoiding the expense of a fight before the State Utility Commission. The city has been forced to appeal to the commission for electricity reductions. A $1,140,000 annual savings in gas charges resulted from conferences between gas and city officials.

INDIAN AUTHOR ENDS LIFE

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—(INS.)—Why Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, 36, noted American Indian author, killed himself today was a mystery that puzzled friends and investigators, according to deputy sheriffs.

Seated on a lounge in the palatial home of Anita Baldwin, multi-millionaire daughter of the late "Lucky" Baldwin, Chief Long Lance ended his spectacular career by firing a bullet through his head, Deputy Sheriff Frank Gompert said.

Members of the household told Gombert that Chief Long Lance had been drinking.

As a youth, Chief Long Lance was a trick rider with Buffalo Bill's Wild West show.

TWO CLAIM GIN, HELD IN RAID

Lloyd Blassingham, arrested in a raid on an alleged speakeasy at 328 Liberty avenue Saturday, was held for court today charged with possession of liquor, a charge which grew, dry agents said, from his claiming four pints of gin on the bar when the place was raided.

Robert Parker was held on a similar charge. Each was placed under $500 bond.

The raiders reported finding beer and a small amount of whisky in the place, which was described in the "sight and smell" warrant as "Mat Cavanaugh's speakeasy."

They admitted before a United States Commissioner today that they had not made a "buy" in the place.

Misses' "Important" Dresses $25

The important frock, to many a young woman just now, is one simple enough to wear under a dressy Easter coat, and yet soft and formal enough for afternoon occasions.

Here is a group of beautiful models of fine canton crepe, in soft, hazy blues, beige, navy and black. With the intriguing sleeves which are making exciting fashion news, and finishes of hand-fagoting in novel designs, fine embroidered batiste inset with Val, or of net and appliqued georgette.

Shoes Tell Their Newness by Dots and Dashes, $12.50

A Sandal and a Pump—the two most fashionable shoe outlines, in two wholly new and different patterns . . . intended for those women whose footwear must express individuality.

The Sandal is patterned of punched-dots which have an iridescent kid lining contrasting with the color of the shoe—for example, gray with black, light blue with navy and gold with brown.

The Pump has the vamp stitched in swirl effect with a two-toned thread which gives the effect of swirling dashes. It may be had in brown or black.

Unfurred Coats

They're Important as a Versatile and Economical Fashion

$16.50 $25

They are versatile because their necklines can be varied in so many ways, by the addition of self scarfs, silk scarfs, and scarfs of "small" furs of two to six skins. They are economical because their versatility makes it possible for a woman to give the impression, with one coat, of having two or three.

For these two reasons, besides the fact of Paris approval, we make much of the vogue of the unfurred coat at moderate prices . . . Coats with intriguing sleeves, with the youthful high-waisted silhouette, with smart necklines, unusual closings, with white-faced revers, white pique trimmings, ribbon bindings, with tucked and stitched revers, and often with the close lines of a wrap-around dress. For women, short women and misses.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear Walter: You have the most annoying cousins. One of them, from New England, made it a little difficult for me. He demanded an appt. I did my best to explain to him that you hadn't kept an appt with anyone since 1926 when you finally discovered that appts were only made by people who waited something. I finally hung up on him, ignoring your counsel, that relatives were merely people who wondered how you contrived to keep on fooling the world. . . . Did you see the dentist? . . . They want you to do something about a benefit for chorus boys and girls . . . I think it is a series of benefits . . . One to be dedicated to Ziegfeld, another to Cohan . . . one to Sam H. Harris and so on . . . with the proceeds to be given to Equity for distribution. I told them you, while run the show on one condition—that all promoters were shot out of it—because you discovered that most promoters keep 60 per cent of the gross. . . . Robert Sisk, you know is now in charge of all press dispatches for the RKO here. He'll be getting his dough—as he wouldn't answer his phone.

A Dancer! You need a different one. Tom Mix's daughter, Ruth, had her marriage annulled two weeks ago. . . . Lita Grey has one of the richest alimony checks sending her on flats too. Incidentally most of the good-looker who served Ziegfeld are now in "Of Thee I Sing." In Face The Music, Mary Boland has a bathtub scene which gets a big hand. But Miss Boland, who tells the "joke" about which the laugh, is considerable in the theatre, never did even the author, George S. Kaufman. Lo, Hollywood has christened a gag that was ten weeks ago! I'll tell him. Beware and pack up those seats. Benchley is to star in a new form of revue.

The old game of Bagatelle is catching on again with the Thinkers. It's more interesting, of course, when you play for money. They've billed Russ Columbo the "Romeo of Song" and "The Vocal Valentino." Why not "Columbo the Gen. of the Ozone"? All right, let it go. Paul Hudson of the National Press Club called—to point out that Shakespeare wrote "Hallo your name is the everberate hills. And kiss the babbling gossip o's out." It's in "Twelfth Night," Act 1, Scene 5. . . . Dr. Freud's "Wit and Its Relation to the Unconscious" scissored pretty of slanguage from Broadway, among them your Aesthetic. I also note that he "is a nut but who conned that?" . . . Helene Mowbray called. Says her husband has disappeared after much worry over losing his job. . . . She wishes you'd find him for her. I told her you'd try.

"The Round-Up" closed after one week—and it rehearsed two . . . All the Equity players got paid, but some singers, cowboys and Indians got but a few dollars for their work. One cowboy got $6 for two weeks! In order to help his new movie "One Hour With You"—M. Chevalier went before the Pennsy and New York censors to get it passed. . . . Its subtle quips will wow the peasants. . . . Danny Dare and Barbara Sheldon were married a week ago. He's the dance director and she served Paramount movies. I hear that Forty-second Street is on its last legs. . . . The Harris has gone foreign movie—and there is talk that White won't tenant the Apollo next year—although he has a lease on it. . . . The most famous of the byways, it appears, has gone too Ghetto and the class shows want to get away from it. . . . The rumor that Sam Finn had died in the desert is wrong. . . . He's very much alive on the Coast and wishes you'd make that fact known. . . . The Fred Francis are happier than ever. . . . Carey of Madison Sq. Garden called . . . Seems that a movie is being made by that title and actual ringsiders will be snapped. I told Mr. Carey that I was sure you couldn't oblige.

Buddy Rogers won't let the hotel featuring him and his band take advantage of his flicker fame in their ads. He wants to click on his musical merits. . . . Bill's person. . . . All of us get just so hot sometime in our career, then we all go through the cooling-off process . . . But Mr. Rogers wants to get emotional and click on his own musical merits. . . . Even Paul Whiteman doesn't always, huh? . . . I think it's about time, too, that someone like you made it public—that George Gershwin—scores his own rhapsodies. . . . Grofe did "Rhapsody In Blue"—but only after Gershwin made a pretty clear sketch of the score . . . I saw the originals at GG's mansion on the Drive last night—and after finding out how much labor one must put into such a work, I think it's a shame that a chap like Gershwin has to share half his glory . . . Do what you want about it, but do something. . . . I'm fed up, too, with the type who jumps on the other fellow's band-wagon.

Mimi Anderson, daughter of Sherwood Anderson, the novelist, and Russell Mayo Spear, an Amherst grad, are being wedded soon . . . Arthur Loew and Sally O'Neil are Yuletop-bound, leaving Helen Morgan and Lewis Milestone behind. . . . Lillian Roth, who is soloing it again, has a new car and a Hawaiian chauffeur whom she calls "Hiawatha" . . . His real name, however, is Meyer. . . . Arthur Barton is Donald Flamm's new editor . . . Olive Shea, the first radio queen, is now Gloria Shea for Warner's. . . . Add Lynchburg, Va., and Reno to your list . . . Eva Le Gallienne's hands were ruined by that fire last year, poor girl. . . . Is that John Upman, a concert singer, who is altar-bound with Bettina Hall?

Do you know it is impossible to trace a dial phone call? . . .

MOVIE CAPITAL -:- Hollywood Re-Discovers One of Its Own -:- IN THE THEATERS

Lyon's Now Lion With Studios

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, March 21.

All the studios are hot for Ben Lyon since his sparkling performance in "Lady With a Past."

Today it looks as if Fox will get him to play opposite Joan Bennett in Wm. Rhu's Ouija. The film is being adapted by William Conselman from Warner Baxter's novel.

After Christmas Ben and Bebe Daniels expect to make a short in Hollywood, their first picture together.

In the meantime Ben and Bebe are enjoying a vacation. They're at the coast a few days after their New York honeymoon. This is their honeymoon. Bebe's parents are being flattered on by wire. Of course, this may fall through as Lyons do have a way of doing that. But I know Fox is anxious to get Ben in sight and he might do a lot worse.

Ben Lyon

HERE'S CHATTER

John Barrymore was telling me how glad he is to get away from his old type of roles. Soon, he said, they would have had me playing apes. And the most terrible part of it is I would have been willing to play them." The yarn of a fellow who likes suicide.

Renee Adoree will leave the hospital the first of the month for a while, though she'll have to take a house in the desert country.

Sax Chico Marx wearing a green hat and coat on St. Patrick's Day. At another table Marlene Dietrich in jade green. But I doubt if she was pinchpenalized.

St. Patrick's Day incidentally was Sam Marx's birthday. She was born in Tipperary, China.

Even Maurice Chevalier has taken up knitted sweaters. Which reminds me Clark Gable rumors only refers to his yoyo pets as my string.

The students of the University of Southern California have started the first "Poetry Theater" in the country. It's modeled upon an Oxford institution. . . . The film colony is preparing to welcome Claire Windsor when she returns here in the Al Jolson show. Richard Dix and his wife are back.

Two Pictures on Bill In the Harris

The current bill in the Harris offers two feature-length photoplays. One is "The Secret Witness" with William Collier, Sr., Zasu Pitts and Una Merkel. The story involves night life and murder. The other film is "Sally of the Subway," featuring Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Revier. It has to do with a bogus count and some globe-trotting.

Evil Hart dances and sings in "Happy Days," current burlesque show in the Academy which features Harry "Hello Jake" Fields.

Did you see the Chester Hale Girls' ballet of toys? . . . Pretty good. I hear that . . . Dancing attendance to the capitalistic is now known as "the racket." . . . His name was John Phillips and he's dancing for Paul Ash's U. S. A. California. . . . Ben is going back to Hollywood to quiver for the movies. . . . I hear that in Chicago on the south side of Randolph st. there are two restaurants, one named Lindy's and a few doors away is one named Anne's. . . . Do you know a Lawrence Blumenthal? . . . From Dorchester, Mass. . . . Well, his mother is gravely ill because of his running away that way—so tell him for me he ought to be ashamed of himself. . . . This actually happened. . . . Right in the crowded Longacre district. . . . A hermit from New Jersey arrived in bare feet, long flowing hair, beard and in tatters. . . . He walked unnoticed for three blocks. . . . And only when a cop stopped him and quizzed him did a crowd of about 500 collect and gape.

Plays and Players -:- By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

Holy Week, the worst in the theatrical year usually, will be much better than last week or even the week before, as far as the Nixon is concerned. For it will have a play, "Too Good to Be True," opening tonight, with Beatrice Lillie and Hope Williams co-featured. And again as far as the Nixon is concerned, it will be better than Easter Week, one of the best of the year for the theaters, because the Nixon will end its regular season next Saturday night. "Too Good to Be True" is one of the Theater Guild subscription plays.

* * *

On the other hand, Manager George Young of the Alvin is looking forward to a spring spurt after a winter lay-off, same to begin with the appearance of George White's "Scandals" in the Sixth street theater next Monday. The big revue, current season's edition, lately on Broadway, will bring William and Eugene Howard, Rudy Vallee, Ethel Barrymore Colt and others. The box office will be taking the coin of customers from today on. Following Mr. White into the Alvin will be Katharine Cornell in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street."

* * *

Next Saturday morning the Nixon will entertain an audience of kiddies with a Children's Theater play, "The Secret Garden," by Frances Hodgson Burnett, the last of a series sponsored by the Woman's City Club.

* * *

If the writer of a communication signed "Amateur Reviewer" will send name and address there will be a response from this department.

* * *

Escudero, Spanish gypsy dancer, and his company, including a coupla featured senoritas, Carmita and Carmela, will appear in the Nixon for one night only, Saturday, April 2, under the local management of May Beegle.

* * *

Joe E. Brown opens on a Los Angeles stage tonight in "Square Crooks," the engagement to continue three weeks. . . . Charlie Chase, Ben Lyon, Bebe Daniels and Cliff Edwards are among Hollywoodians in New York. Ramon Cortez, who has been there, is on his way back. Rumors connect Clara Bow with a comeback in "Souls in Pawn."

Daughter!

Ethel Barrymore Colt, daughter of a famous theatrical family, comes to the Alvin next Monday, March 28, as a featured member of George White's "Scandals."

"SHE visited my sister, and I wished then I could give her a hint. She wears her underthings two or three days without a change! Everybody perspires a little—imagine thinking she can get by!"

IN SO MANY OFFICES there are clever girls who do not realize that one thing alone holds them back. Offices are warm, we all perspire, and underthings absorb these perspiration acids and odors. Others notice this offense before you do yourself.

That's why it is vital to put on fresh lingerie each day. More necessary than the daily bath!

And it is so easy! For Lux is made to remove perspiration acids and odors completely, yet it saves colors and fabrics. And it takes only 4 minutes, or less. Play safe—Lux underthings and stockings after every wearing. This protects daintiness—and it actually keeps them new far longer.

Avoid Offending

Underthings absorb perspiration odor—protect daintiness this way:

1 Wash this 4-minute way! one tablespoon of Lux does one day's undies . . . stockings, too! Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through garment, rinse twice.

2 Wash after each wearing, for perspiration acids left in silk fade colors and rot threads.

3 Never rub dainty lingerie with cake soap. Rubbing tends to streak and wear out silk.

4 Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

LUX for underthings

. . . keeps them like new in spite of constant washing

PRETTY HANDS
Gentle Lux leaves hands soft, snow-white. Use it for dishes—it gives beauty care for only 1¢ a day.

BITS OF LIFE

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

OVER IN THAT prison on the island, Jimmie and Chauncey became firm friends. The friendship was a strange one because Chauncey was a colored man around 60 years of age, while Jimmie was a young chap with a definite education. More, this was Jimmie's first bit—and Chauncey had spent at least half of his 60 years in various jails around the country.

Yet the friendship bloomed. Chauncey would sit for hours in rapt attention as Jimmie talked of this, that and other things. The two men could have had but little in common and I doubt whether Chauncey grasped half the things about which Jimmie talked. Still in all, there they were. And what are we going to do—argue about it?

As the time approached for Chauncey to be released again, Jimmie grew a trifle worried. He really felt that the elderly colored man would never be able to stand the strain of another sentence. So he made up his mind to give Chauncey a piece of honest advice.

"Chauncey," he asserted, "I've talked to several fellows around here who have been let out, and some of my notions turned out pretty well. Now I'm going to give you a few tips right from the shoulder."

The colored man grinned.

"Yo go right ahead, Jimmie," he said. "Whatever you says, Ah listens to with plenty of attention."

"Good," cried the young man. "That's a fine start. Now listen carefully. You're not a young man by any means, and I don't want you to start kidding yourself.

"What I want you to do from now on is to go straight. You can do it if you want to and, at your age, it's the only line to follow.

"I want you to promise me just one thing. Forget the larceny racket. Just get yourself a good job as a first step. Then get a radio to keep you home nights and out of trouble. You'll be a happier man, Chauncey, and I want you to make that promise to me, for your own sake."

"I could go on for hours along these lines, but I don't want to. I think you know me well enough to understand that my advice is given only because I like you. What do you say?"

The colored man nodded rapidly.

"Jimmie," he returned, "so' suah is my pal. Ah'm gonna make that promise and, what's mosh, Ah'm gonna keep it. Ah promise Ah won't forget. Just a good job and a lil' radio to keep me outa trouble. Yass, suh, Jimmie, yo' has my word."

The two men shook hands. Three days later, Chauncey was released. And exactly one month after that, much to Jimmie's astonishment, Chauncey was back in prison. Once again he had been convicted of petty larceny.

As soon as he met him, Jimmie proceeded to give the old man plenty of the devil.

"I'm surprised at you," he cried. "I thought you might have learned a little something from my talk, but I find now that you're hopeless. And after all those promises, too! What happened to that job and that little radio?"

"Well, Jimmie," replied the colored man, "Ah really has got a 'splanation dat's very good. Ah did all right with the job, but I suah got in trouble with that radio."

"Trouble with the radio?" repeated Jimmie. "How did that happen?"

Chauncey shrugged his shoulders.

"Why," he responded, as though it was the simplest thing in the world to figure out, "Ah got caught as ah was takin' it out of the store" . . .

WITH NOTHING very exciting going on around police headquarters the other afternoon, some of the boys began to argue about bicycle riders. One of them insisted that Frank Kramer was very old in the bicycle game, while another reporter argued the other day.

Finally, after much discussion, they decided to end the argument by phoning the sporting department of a local newspaper. The sleepy voice of an office boy answered the call.

"Hello," said the police reporter, "is this the sporting department?"

"Yeah," responded the tired one.

"Well," continued the reporter, "we've just had a little argument over here and we'd like you to settle it for us. Can you tell us when Frank Kramer rode his last race?"

The office boy told the inquirer to hold on for a moment. Five minutes later, he returned.

"Say," was the information he handed out, "I can't find nothin' about that. That horse ain't runnin' today!" . . .

* * *

THERE WERE six more of those confounded good-luck chain letters in my mail this morning—and I just happened to think of something. My idea of the height of misfortune would be a guy who spent an entire day writing hundreds of letters about the Flanders Chain of Good Luck—and then was killed on his way to the mail box . . .

* * *

A NEW FILM company, writes Phil Baker, was recently started with a great deal of noise and advertising. Two weeks later the company was disbanded and a number of alleged picture actors were out of work. While playing in a western city a few days ago, Phil met one of the players who had been tossed out of a job.

"What happened to that company?" asked the comedian. "I thought it looked like a big thing."

"Yeah," agreed the actor sadly, "but it was the same old story. The man who was backing the company suddenly found out that the leading lady was married!" . . .

* * *

AMONG TH' Broadway producers is one gentleman who has had a pet slogan for many years. When things are not going so well, he gets up before his entire company and shouts: "Are you with me 100 per cent?" And the answering "yes" always comes from the assembled artists with great gusto.

A short time ago, because it was impossible for him to make money under the difficult conditions, he asked the members of his current troupe to accept a cut of 25 per cent. Out of loyalty to their boss, they all accepted.

A few nights later, a minor girl principal approached the producer and requested a new dress for a certain scene. The big man said it wasn't necessary and the girl looked very peeved.

"What's the matter?" questioned the producer. "Aren't you with me 100 per cent?"

CORONER'S CAR IN CRASH

Coroner W. J. McGregor today learned that a county owned automobile assigned to him had been wrecked and four men injured, one of them a deputy coroner, seriously. The machine is said to have been wrecked early yesterday when it hit a pole in Reedsdale street, near Walker street.

Deputy Coroner James Dunlay, 24, of 725 Charles street, McKeesport, is in the Allegheny General Hospital, suffering internal injuries, fractured ribs and bruises. James Sarsfield, 23, of 18 Wellsford street, said to be a county driver; Joseph Carroll, of 928 Vickroy street, and Robert Miller, of 1154 Herron avenue, an engineer at the county morgue, also were hurt.

Miller was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital suffering cuts and bruises, and the others were taken to the Allegheny General Hospital. Dunlay was the only one seriously hurt. Police at the Woods Run Station stated the car was one assigned to Coroner McGregor and the wreckage had been removed to a city towing garage.

MAN CHAINED IN SWAMP FREED

BERLIN, Md., March 21.—(INS.)—Rescued from Holly Grove Swamp, where his abductors manacled him wit' chains to a tree and left him over night, Charles W. Brown, 31, aided police today in the hunt for his kidnapers.

Near exhaustion from hunger and exposure, Brown was saved by Edward Taylor, farm hand, who, with a sledge hammer and chisel, knocked off the fetters that bound Brown by the arms, legs and neck to the tree.

Brown told police he was waylaid and kidnaped by four masked men last Tuesday at Evergreen Woods.

Before he was bound and blindfolded by the abductors, he said, he fought with them and succeeded in ripping off the mask of one of his assailants. He declared he recognized a well known citizen of Worcester County.

2 Families Routed By Vandergrift Fire

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., March 21.—Twelve persons were driven from their homes early yesterday when a fire, starting in a garage, spread to two other buildings. Loss was placed at $18,000.

Musical Saw Wins Place in Symphony

CINCINNATI, O., March 21.—(INS.)—The musical saw today had "made good" in symphony.

Musical circles in Cincinnati hailed Robert S. Alter, vice president of a machine tool company as a success in his efforts to put the saw in choice musical company after he played several solos at a concert of the Cincinnati and Municipal Orchestras here yesterday.

After playing compositions written for him by the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, he ended with Rachmaninoff's "In the Silence of the Night." The listeners were unusually enthusiastic in their approval.

The musical saw never before had been presented in symphony in this country.

True Love Based on Sympathy And Understanding

Have you ever heard of a couple like this?

They're miserable when they're apart; but when they get together they're just a coupla Kilkenny cats!

Of course, they're crazy about each other; but Jack doesnt' like Dolly's hats, or the way she eats asparagus; while she thinks his ties are too loud; so it's:

"Now honey, I don't want to criticize, but—"

And the war is on!!!!!

"Can it really be true love when we're always seeing faults in each other like that, and get so mad at each other?" moans Dolly.

"Dear Sally:

"I guess maybe you'll think I'm just a big boob when I tell you my story, but I hope you'll take pity on me and try to help me to see things right. I am really very serious about this, and I don't want to make any mistakes.

"To get down to it right off, Jack and I have been going together for almost a year, and we are engaged. We are really crazy about each other, and when we are apart we can't hardly wait to see each other again, but the queer part of it, and the part that has me worried, is that when we get together we seem to see so many faults in each other and we get into the most terrible arguments over them.

FINDS FAULT

"Jack will say that he doesn't like something I am wearing or that he thinks that I ought to change my manners in some ways. Now I know that I am not perfect and Jack has had a better chance to learn what's what than I have. I know that. But he isn't perfect either.

"He always seems surprised and acts as if I were silly if I get mad or hurt when he criticizes me, but if I ever mention some little thing about him that I think he should change he gets perfectly furious. And then our time together is spoiled.

"I am beginning to worry a lot and to wonder. Do you think it can honestly be true love, when we see so many faults in each other and get into such arguments over them? Honestly, I think I do love him, but what do you think?

"DOLLY."

MUST NOT NAG

Well, my dear, I can't tell you how "true" your love is. You'll have to decide that for yourselves. But I can tell you this much right off the bat:

You'll have to cut out your idea of making each other over pronto if you ever want to find happiness together.

Marriage is not a mutual improvement society. It's a partnership based on sympathy and on an understanding that the other fellow is not only different but has a right to be different. And if your love is not big enough to let the other fellow be himself or herself—if you're going to forever nag and pick flaws and be dissatisfied with each other—then you'd better quit now before you wreck each other's lives.

But if you can take each other "as is"—can "live and let live"—then you have a fair chance of finding joy and adventure in marriage.

Is your love that big? If it is, then go ahead. But remember that even then your marriage won't be "perfect," because marriage, after all, is just life, and life itself is never "perfect."

Fay King Advises Demure, Homespun Girl Who Weds Gay Play Boy

WHY SO SERIOUS?
TIRED OF HIS GAY GANG HE THINKS OF A DEMURE WIFE AND DOMESTIC BLISS
HIS PALS ARE AMAZED AT HIS DOMESTICITY
I'D LIKE TO DROP AROUND A FEW OF THE OLD SPOTS AGAIN! BUT I WOULDN'T DARE ASK MY WIFE TO COME ALONG! SHE WOULDN'T UNDERSTAND!
FAY KING

By FAY KING

How often the play-pals of a gay bachelor are surprised when he suddenly marries a demure little homespun girl unknown to all of them.

He is tired of his gay life and so looks for one who personifies the quiet bliss of domestic life he now longs for.

But it often happens also that he tires in time of this serene home life and sees old pals again, telling them his wife does not "understand" him.

If the demure domestic little wife can sense this returning restlessness she should blossom out a bit herself and meet the need by meeting and mingling with some of his old friends without criticism or reluctance. It would save the marriage from going on the rocks.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Operations Rid of Terrors Through Use of Anesthesia

In the writings of William Thomas Green Morton, the discoverer of anesthesia, is found this:

"I saturated my handkerchief and inhaled from it. I looked at my watch and soon lost consciousness. As I recovered I felt a numbness in my limbs and I would have given the world for someone to come and arouse me. I thought for a minute that I would die in that state and the world would only pity or ridicule my folly. Gradually I regained power over my limbs and found that I had been insensible between seven and eight minutes."

Dr. Copeland

Thus wrote the young medical student about his early experiences with anesthesia. It is now more than 85 years since this experiment was conducted. Since then advances have been made in anesthesia far beyond the expectations and hopes of young Morton.

It is difficult for one living in this age to realize the conditions that existed before the discovery of anesthesia when an operation was an ordeal that few could endure. At that time the operating room was correctly referred to as a "chamber of horrors" and it was necessary for attendants to hold the patient on the operating table.

Now the most difficult and prolonged operation can be performed without pain. Surgery has been perfected by the aid of proper anesthesia, and today saves thousands of lives which otherwise would be lost.

Since Morton's great discovery, other forms of anesthesia have been developed. The most common anesthetics used are ether, ethylene, chloroform, nitrous oxide and oxygen. The gases are inhaled and produce a state of unconsciousness.

In local anesthesia a drug such as novocaine is injected into the area to be operated on. Of course this means of producing anesthesia can be used only in a limited class of cases. This method is most often used by dentists.

Within recent years tremendous interest has been aroused in a new method of preventing operative pain, called "spinal anesthesia." In this method anesthesia is produced by the injection of a local anesthetic like novocaine, into the spinal fluid. In this form of anesthesia the patient is awake during the operation, but feels no pain.

I can well understand why surgery, and the mere thought of an operation, was dreaded before the discovery of anesthesia, which has abolished the pain and unnecessary torture of surgery.

May I testify to several personal experiences? Please believe me when I say that it is nothing to be dreaded. It is amazing how quickly one drops into unconsciousness, and the sleep that follows is so prolonged that there remains no memory of the experience.

Household Hints

Rice water forms a skin on linoleum, and thus prolongs its life considerably. Smear a little over the lino after it has been thoroughly cleaned.

To remove stubborn burnt particles from a saucepan, fill with water, add one or two pieces of raw onion and simmer for a few minutes. This will remove all particles, leaving the saucepan clean.

In mending China use white paint such as artists use in oil paintings. Use as you would glue and let stand for three or four days. Dishes thus mended may be washed in hot water with little danger of coming apart.

-:- Correct Manners -:-

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

A Bride's Friends

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. What must a bride do for those friends who had bridal showers in her honor?

2. How long should elapse after the marriage before she should invite her guests who sent her gifts and so forth?

3. To whom should wedding photographs be given?

4. How should canapes be served when they are served in the living room before the luncheon or dinner? Do the guests receive napkins then? F.

1. These friends who were so kind as to plan parties of this kind for the bride will probably be very intimate friends of hers and as such would be invited very soon to her new home for some occasion, either formal or informal.

2. Just as soon as she finds it convenient after she has returned from her wedding trip she will invite her close friends to her home.

3. This is just as the bride wishes. Sometimes there are only a few photographs and these are given to very close relatives and very close friends.

4. The canapes are arranged on serving-plates such as sandwich plates or cake plates and this plate is put on a tray, usually of silver, and passed to the guests. On the tray to the side are placed the pile of tiny napkins and as the guests take a canape, he or she also takes a napkin.

Eating Waffles

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When one eats waffles should the entire waffle be buttered, when one begins to eat it, or should one butter just a section at a time? It doesn't look very well I know, to butter all the waffle at the beginning, but, on the other hand, it cools so quickly that later the butter won't melt. C. B.

A good question and one that is a problem to the waffle enthusiasts who are legion! You are right that the butter won't melt easily if we don't butter the whole waffle at first, and so we should spread the butter on the entire waffle to get the full enjoyment of it.

OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

The Informatory Pass

The "informatory pass" is the expert's method of showing a worthless Cavendish hand (one divided among the suits 4-3-3-3) when his partner's informatory double is redoubled. In case the redoubled bid is 1-No Trump, the informatory pass states that the only four-card suit is a worthless minor one. The doubler's knowledge that at least three cards of each suit are held enables him to make the best declaration for the joint hands. The deal shown below brought to light this situation.

Z made an opening bid of 1-No Trump. A doubled and Y redoubled. Knowing the conventional informatory pass, B made it. As the doubled and redoubled bid insured game, Z had nothing to do and passed. Y-Z were vulnerable, but A-B were not vulnerable. It seemed less expensive to A to bid two of one of his major suits, and he doubled, then to allow his opponents to win so easy a rubber. Knowing in advance that B held just three spades, A bid 2-Spades.

Of course that could have been doubled and defeated, but neither Y nor Z knew whether it would pay as well as continuing their own bidding. Y had to pass, but Z bid 2-No Trumps, upon his two spade stops and his partner's promise of strong no-trump support. Y bid 3-No Trumps over A's pass. The opening lead was the expected one—the Q of spades. Z won the trick and led his J of diamonds, through A's K. For all that A knew, diamonds might be the minor suit of which his partner held four; these might include a trick if A caused three honors to fall together, as B might hold four to the 9 or the 8-7. A's hope proved a vain one, and four diamond tricks were run off, causing A to make two heart discards. Z could read that A held only two hearts left and that B held three. B let go a worthless spade. Because B had made use of the informatory pass, the declarer knew that B held just four clubs and that A had three. The holdings about the table were as easy to read as the page of an open book.

Winning the fourth diamond trick in his own hand, Z led his Q of clubs through A's K, letting it run when the K was not played. Two more leads of clubs cleaned up A's holdings of that suit. The final club trick was won in dummy.

Calculating that A held the A-Q of hearts over Z's K-J, the latter saw that he must lose two heart tricks and two spade tricks in case a heart was led from dummy. But if dummy led a spade, and Z won the trick, he would have nine tricks safely stacked, with almost a certainty of a heart trick in addition, if he put A in the lead with a third round of spades. This procedure appeared the best possible one to Z, and he proceeded to put it in action.

Of course A was able to win only his two good spades and the A of hearts; then he had to lead his Q of hearts up to Z's K-J, just as the declarer had calculated. Z's excellent card reading and end strategy gave him one trick over his game contract.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Man's Soul

Man's soul was made
Always to be Strong, unafraid,
And proud and free.

Sometimes the heart
Is crushed by strife,
By sting, by smart,
By death, by life.

The thoughts sometimes
Through shadows grope,
By sins, by crimes
Shut out from hope.

But far within Serene, apart
From strife and sin
And doubting heart

Unstirred by woes
And misery,
The proud soul goes,
Untrammeled, free.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Milia or seed acne appears in the form of tiny beadlike elevations on the skin. The mouth of the pore has closed, sebaceous oil has hardened into a wax, banked up. The horrors can be removed by slitting the skin with a sterilized needle and removing the blockades with the needle point. Ofttimes it is impossible to press them out, they are wedged in so solidly. Bathe the wound with a saturate solution of boric acid.

A three-cornered lip stick is a new whimsy. Cosmetic chemists who thought it out did a kindness to the sisterhood because, by its form, the trick of outlining the heart-shaped mouth is easier than when achieved by means of the round lip smear. Begin in the center of the upper lip, work toward the ends. Don't overlook the inner surfaces.

BLUE CARRIES OUT FEMININE TREND OF NEW SPRING MODE

—Sketched in Paris—

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, March 21.—Now that the picturesque pervades the mode it should be easy for all of us to look like pictures. Carefully, deftly, the designers have avoided any hint of the overdone or bizarre. The tailored aspect and the soft feminine note are skillfully blended. Neatness is always present, the slender line is kept intact, youth is paramount in everything whether it be an ensemble, a frock, a hat or accessories. Every type of beauty can provide itself with a handsome, flattering frame, so that this spring the world should smile even if it is not over-cheerful.

* * *

BLUE AND BEIGE still continue to lead the color parade with blue in the vanguard because of the many shades and gradations that range from palest pastel to midnight blue. Blue is a color immensely pleasing to the masculine eye. He will remember that a woman was wearing a blue frock. And so, that means that blue is feminine, which characteristic is entirely indicative of the new spring mode. But the feminine frock does not mean that fuss, frills or furbelows should rule. Always the tailored note is uppermost, even when it comes to a flounce.

* * *

SKETCHED TODAY is an exquisite afternoon ensemble that stresses the picturesque but not unduly. It is by Madame Vera Borea, an Italian noblewoman who has gone to her native land for inspiration as well as for some exquisite fabrics and laces. She calls this model Raphael and it is typical of the Italian renaissance period that has quite obviously inspired her spring collection. The fabric is a heavy weight black silk crepe especially woven in Italy. The jacket is buttoned from throat to the waistline over a lingerie bodice of exquisite renaissance lace. The sleeves are slashed at the shoulder and elbow and the ample lace sleeves of the blouse are drawn through in puffs that graphically suggest the slashed and puffed effects of the period. The buttons are of white porcelain patterned in relief.

* * *

THE HAT is a new Agnes model for spring. It has a conical crown and is done in coarse shining straw, the paillasson, so beloved of the designers. The color is navy blue with a crisp little brim of the same straw in bright red. The brim is turned back like a cuff and the hat is worn tipped over one eye. The Bucarlet gloves are of very fine kid in navy blue, with a diagonal cuff posed over the cuff-proper. This is a pull-on model.

AWNINGS ADD TO BEAUTY OF HOME

Study by Experts Reveals Various Colors and Types Suited for Each Dwelling

Every woman knows the effect of a new hat or a bright scarf. Women also know that gay awnings will dress up an old house. Gone are the days when an awning was merely a simple boxed affair whose sole purpose was to afford protection from the sun. If every house could have a shade tree blowing in the wind outside each porch or window awnings would not be nearly so important.

The type of architecture usually governs the style of awnings according to experts at A. Mamaux & Sons, 120 Boulevard of the Allies. Spanish type homes demand awnings without sides with very decorative hardware. For doorways and arched windows round awnings are best and box awnings add a dashing air to many modern homes.

Besides architecture the predominating color of the house should be a determining factor in the selection of correct awnings. If the color of the outer walls is neutral the roof shutters or trimmings provide key symbols of color. Low-keyed colors are symbols of quietness, distance and repose. Tan has warmth, green denotes outdoors, vitality and life, orange suggests sunshine, blue has serenity and distinction, red breathes forth a fiery touch of energy and life.

Wide stripes suggest breadth and strength. Narrow stripes bring out conservatism and decency. Intricate designs imply liveliness and gayety, while simple designs express quietness and dignity.

HOW DURABLE CEMENT?

J. S. HAMILTON MISS MARY CRICHLEY

Mr. Hamilton, president, examining the cement burial vault that at 1719 Banksville road since last July has supported 11 tons (226 bags of cement) in a continuing test of its strength. The burial vault weighs 1,800 pounds itself. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

CEMENT TESTS CONDUCTED HERE

Banksville Road Company Demonstrating Durability By Weight Experiment

Rigid and exhaustive tests are being conducted at the Harley Burial Vault plant, 1719 Banksville road, to determine the durability of a cement vault under a weight more than five times greater than it is subjected to in an average six-foot grave, according to J. S. Hamilton, president.

On July 9, 1931, 226 bags of cement weighing 11 tons were piled on top of a vault weighing 1,800 pounds. The test will be continued over a year, to prove that the vault is capable of sustaining more than 11 times its own weight in earth in a grave.

Knowing that concrete is the most durable material for bridge piers, cellars, basements and foundations, where exposure to extreme moisture makes metal impractical, concrete engineers have experimented recently with cement vaults. Mixtures of concrete and waterproofing materials have been tested under severe conditions to produce a burial enclosement which would insure indefinite lasting qualities.

Water cannot ooze through cement vaults. They have the hardness of natural stone and there are no seams to permit seepage. It is a scientific fact that concrete hardens with age. Some of the concrete made before the Christian era is still in existence. Moisture and the natural dampness of earth actually add to the strength and watertightness of concrete.

BUSINESS

Too Soon to Expect Revival in Business, Says Labor Federation

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

DEFINITE SIGNS of business revival cannot be expected for some time to come, but the dangers of more serious difficulties have been averted by government measures, according to an analysis made by economists of the American Federation of Labor.

Progress in creating a groundwork of business confidence has been the main achievement of the past month, according to the survey, which declares that many forecasters believe that at least six months must intervene before we can see definite signs of recovery. In commenting directly on employment conditions, the bulletin says:

"Prospects for better employment therefore are still far in the future, except for a small seasonal improvement this spring. Relief now will probably increase in the present month and through April, and will continue near the present level for at least the next six months."

* * *

Better Conditions Found In Banking

WHILE THE Federation of Labor paints a gloomy picture of immediate prospects for employment, it sees genuine improvement in banking and credit conditions. A total of $62,800,000 has been loaned to 255 banks. In February failures were fewer than at any time in four years.

The survey also finds that money actually is coming out of hoarding. Money in circulation has been declining since the first week in February. Incidentally, the term "money in circulation" as used by the Federal Reserve System in its reports is misleading. It really means the total amount of currency which has been issued and is in private hands. If the large total of money were really circulating, that is, changing hands frequently, there would be nothing to worry about.

In analyzing the money in circulation figures, the survey declares that every year there is a large increase in circulation through the withdrawal of money for Christmas shopping. After Christmas in normal years, this extra circulation flows back at once to banks so that about $300,000,000 is redeposited by the end of January. This year only $100,000,000 had been returned by the first of February. By the beginning of March confidence returned and redeposits increased more rapidly. From the first week in February to March 12, a total of $82,000,000 was taken out of hoarding.

Unemployment Figure Still at High Point

UNEMPLOYMENT STILL holds at practically its high level, according to the survey. The Labor Federation estimates that 8,300,000 still are out of work. Trade union weighted figures place January unemployment at 23.1 per cent and February at 23 per cent. The fact that unemployment since October has increased no more than is normal for this season was emphasized as an encouraging note.

The study sees no basis for increased purchasing power for some time. In commenting on this it says:

"In January, business activity was 28 per cent below normal; in February, the decline continued and the spring season is not expected to reach its usual proportions. Buying power to create a strong production increase simply does not exist; but production has been so reduced in some industries that shortages may develop. Central leadership behind a courageous program to create employment by shortening work hours, increasing workers' buying power and making other necessary adjustments could assure progress toward recovery."

MEAT INDUSTRY GUARDS PUBLIC HEALTH

Packers Have Eliminated Antiquated Methods of Curing and Distribution

Every precaution is taken to safeguard public health in modern federal inspected meat plants, according to F. K. R. Hewitt, superintendent of the William Zoller Company, 1521-1600 Spring Garden avenue. Connected with the meat packing industry in Pittsburgh since 1903, Mr. Hewitt has seen remarkable progress in the last 27 years, he said.

"The packing industry is an outgrowth of methods used by the aborigines. It had its inception in the economic need to preserve food from a season of plenty to one of scarcity. Primitive man preserved the flesh of game and animals by freezing, by the application of salt, and, later, by the process of cooking."

Prior to the invention of modern refrigeration systems, slaughtering and distribution of meat was haphazard and seasonal. Trial and error in the processing of meat has been replaced by scientific curing methods.

From the consumer's point of view, the little purple stamp found on all good meat food products is the most important consideration. It is the Bureau of Animal Industry's guarantee of purity and sanitary wholesomeness. It is only within the last quarter century that government inspection of meat products has been universal. William Zoller Company, one of the oldest of the Eastern meat packers, has kept pace with the rapid development of the industry.

FREIGHT BOARD TO MEET

On Thursday, March 24, the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board will hold its twentieth regular meeting in the William Penn Hotel. It is anticipated that around 300 representatives of shippers and receivers of freight and the railroads will be in attendance.

Address will be delivered by Ralph S. Euler, vice president of the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, explaining the effect upon present economic conditions which it is expected will result from the organization of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Glass-Steagall act.

The 23 commodity committees of the board will present reports as to anticipated freight car requirements during the forthcoming second quarter of 1932 as compared with the corresponding period of last year as well as information concerning general conditions in the industry.

The railroad representatives will make public at this meeting any improvements under way or contemplated, construction of rolling stock, changes in freight train service and schedules.

France Fixes Auto Body Import Quotas

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The import quotas of automobile body sheets and sections of sheets into France have been established, the Commerce Department is advised. Monthly quotas are fixed as follows: For the period March 1 to June 30, 1932, polished flat sheets of iron or steel for automobile bodies, a total quota of 200 metric tons, of which an individual quota of 60 metric tons is fixed for imports from the United States. Flat iron or steel sheets containing more than 0.5 per cent of silicon, a total quota of 583 metric tons, of which an individual quota of 2.9 metric tons is fixed for the United States.

Allis-Chalmers Suit Is Settled

The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company announces that the suit between it and the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Company of Dayton, O., in United States District Court at Cincinnati, O., involving patent infringement of Allis-Chalmers Geist patent No. 1,662,511, pertaining to multiple V belt drives has been settled out of court. The Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Company takes a license under the Geist patent and the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company has the right to operate under Short patent No. 1,838,303, if it so desires.

MILL OBSERVES 25TH BIRTHDAY

Coincident with the completion of substantial improvements, the largest cast iron foundry in the world, the Canton, O., plant of the United Engineering & Foundry Company, this month is observing its twenty-fifth birthday with the casting of the ten-thousandth furnace heat and its one hundred and ten-thousandth roll.

Since the first roll cast in March, 1907, the plant has enjoyed a record of having produced rolls with a six-inch face for the rolling of silver, requiring 100 pounds of hot metal, to those 44 inches in diameter and 160 inches long for plate mills, requiring 120,000 pounds of hot metal.

The plant is devoted exclusively to the production of iron and iron alloy rolls for rolling mill purposes.

At the beginning plant capacity was 400 tons per month, with equipment consisting of four belt-driven roll lathes; while today there is a capacity of 4,000 tons per month with lathe and grinding equipment to correspond, making the plant the largest roll foundry in the world.

STEEL OUTPUT SHOWS DROP

CLEVELAND, March 21.—(AP)—Structural steel bookings amounted to 20,311 tons last week, the second highest this year, the magazine Steel announced today.

Despite this gain, however, the industry fell off a half point to 24½ per cent of normal, and that in what is normally the highest production quarter of the year.

Although Ford has released orders for parts for the new models, his tonnage specifications for finished steel still are withheld, the magazine said.

In the period of waiting the steel industry is downcast, the survey said. Output of steel ingots for the first quarter was estimated at 4,500,000 tons, approximately 63 per cent below the corresponding period of 1931.

New higher price levels announced by the steel industry continue to be asking prices as the magazine found a disposition to make concessions on occasional attractive requirements.

YEAR'S COTTON GINNINGS UP

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The Bureau of the Census reports 16,595,780 running bales of lint cotton, counting round bales as halves, ginned and to be ginned from the crop of 1931 against 13,755,513 ginned from the crop of 1930 and 14,547,791 from the 1929 crop.

Ginnings from the 1931-32 season are equivalent to 17,069,712 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. This compares with the final crop estimate of the Department of Agriculture made last December for a production of 16,918,000 bales. Production in the 1930-31 season was 13,932,000 bales and in the preceding season it was 14,828,000 bales.

Rubber Slumps on London Exchange

LONDON, March 21.—(INS.)—Rubber reached the lowest point at which it has ever been quoted on the London Exchange today, diving to 1⅞ pence per pound.

The sensational drop was attributed to the failure of the British and Dutch governments to come to an agreement to restrict the production of rubber.

The market otherwise was easy, due to scattered selling and the approach of the Easter holidays.

LISTENING IN

With the Radio Editor

THE "OLD MAESTRO" and the "Waltz King" are coming to Pittsburgh.

Ben Bernie is scheduled for a week's appearance at the Willows, the Oakmont Night Club, in early spring. Despite the banter they exchange on their respective radio programs, Bernie and Walter Winchell, Sun-Telegraph columnist, are the warmest of friends. In fact, Winchell claims Ben is one of his few friends who isn't patting him on the back to find a place for a knife.

Ben Bernie

Miss Philo

Wayne King, heard regularly on WCAE, brings his band to Pittsburgh April 9 to play for the Anatole Easter ball, under the auspices of the Anatole Club, at Hotel Schenley. Negotiations are under way, it is understood, for the program to be sent throughout the country on Winchell's "Magic Carpet."

Celebrities of radio and stage and a large group of newspaper writers will attend the farewell party for Don Bestor in Pirate Hall, William Penn Hotel, Friday night, April 1. The festivities, to be broadcast by KDKA, mark Bestor's departure to play at the General Motors Show, Motor Square Garden, for a week. Then he goes to Cleveland for an engagement at the Crystal Slipper, where he broke attendance records a few months ago.

Three orchestral programs are presented tonight from Pittsburgh stations in the interest of the Pittsburgh Musical Society. Nicholas J. Parillo conducts an orchestra of 60 men in a program of classical compositions on WJAS at 11:15. A large chorus and a male quartet also participate.

WCAE presents the Polonia Orchestra under the direction of Borcykowski at 10, and WWSW broadcasts a program of dance music by the Segonis Dance Orchestra at 11.

* * *

Program Pointers

The Carnation program makes its debut on KDKA tonight at 8, starring a male quartet and an orchestra directed by Morgan L. Eastman in a medley of George M. Cohan songs.

Richard Crooks, internationally-known opera and concert star, is featured in place of Lawrence Tibbett at 8:30 over WCAE.

A story of the drug squad of the Canadian Mounted Police—"The Case of Wai Kuen"—is dramatized at 10 over KDKA.

Punxsutawney is saluted during the Westinghouse Parade on KDKA at 6:15. The entire program is made up of Sousa marches.

Imagine being able even to procure treasures from the palaces of the Russian Czars. Yet in our Galleries Exhibit of treasures collected by Dr. Armand Hammer and Mr. Victor Hammer—there are scores of articles of historic significance at prices well within ordinary means.

These plates with the royal initial and crown were first made in the reign of Alexander I. The Russian imperial factory which confines its production to the tables of royalty, continued their manufacture throughout the reigns of Nicholas I, Alexander II and Alexander III. The back of each plate indicates the reign and bears the crest of the ruling monarch. Only $35 each.

AUTO EXHAUST GAS FATAL TO NORTH SIDER

Officers, Hospital Attaches Fail After Working for Hour With Inhalators

After police and attaches at St. John's Hospital had worked with inhalators over the unconscious form of Norman R. McAfee, 40, of 1815 Termon avenue, for more than an hour early today, he was pronounced dead, a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

McAfee was found unconscious in a garage in the rear of his home early this morning by his brother Willard, who notified police and had the victim removed to the hospital. Policemen Anthony J. Lyon and Martin Morgan relayed with hospital attaches in working the inhalator in the vain effort to revive McAfee.

Willard McAfee told police that he and other members of his family left home at 8 o'clock last night, leaving Norman at home. When Willard returned he noticed the garage doors ajar and upon investigating found his brother unconscious on the garage floor.

INDEPENDENTS OPEN DRIVE

The campaign to elect four Independent Republicans to the General Assembly in the Twelfth Legislative District gets under way today with announcement of formal organization over the week-end of the Independent Republican Campaign Committee of the Twelfth Legislative District. Headquarters is in the Swartz Building, Potomac and Belrose avenues, Dormont.

The slate of four, which has the indorsement of the 39 "independent" chairmen of the Pittsburgh wards, townships and boroughs in the district, includes Ronald L. Thompson, Mt. Lebanon; John R. Herring, Thirty-second Ward, formerly Overbrook Borough; Herman C. A. Hofacker, Coraopolis, and Edward Lee Bladel, Crafton.

The campaign committee is "sponsoring" the candidacy of Dr. Thomas M. Heard, Mt. Lebanon, for the seat in Congress from the Thirty-fourth District, now held by Guy Campbell.

Officers are: General chairman, H. C. Workmaster, Mt. Lebanon; vice chairman, William S. Haddock, Dormont; secretary, H. W. Boord, Dormont; finance committee chairman, Samuel D. Hollis, Twenty-ninth Ward.

Candidate to Seek Utility Rate Cuts

W. J. Snyder, of Baldwin Township, has announced his platform as a candidate for member of the Legislature from the Twelfth District. He said:

"I am for legislation that will cause lower public utility rates and provide for unemployment relief, such as two-man street cars. I am for a state income tax on persons and firms having a net income of over $25,000 a year, to be used for unemployment insurance. I am for the blue laws and for modification of the Eighteenth Amendment."

G. O. P. LEADERS GUESTS HERE

Allegheny County today was to play host to anti-Pinchot leaders who were to attend a reception in the William Penn Hotel. Among those expected are Gen. Edward Martin, Republican state chairman; Lieut. Gov. Edward C. Shannon, candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention; Auditor General Charles A. Waters, candidate for State Treasurer; State Senator Frank E. Baldwin, candidate for Auditor General; Charles Johnson, secretary of the state committee, and A. Boyd Hamilton, secretary to Gen. Martin.

The state leaders will be met by local Republican chiefs as well as leaders from other Western Pennsylvania counties. State Senator James J. Coyne, general chairman of the state committee drive in this district, and former Congressman William B. Coleman, county chairman, will have charge of the arrangements.

McKeesport Officer Dies After Pursuit

Stricken with a heart attack while chasing a burglar suspect who had broken a window on his beat, Charles Bartlett, 40, Negro, of 1326 Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, a patrolman attached to the McKeesport Police Station, collapsed and died shortly after admittance to the McKeesport Hospital early yesterday.

Structure Fire Trap, Declares Head Of Civic Group

Members of the Duquesne Heights Civic Association today were completing plans to appear before the Board of Public Education and ask construction of a new building to replace the Snodgrass grade school at Sweetbriar street and Grandview avenue.

One of the oldest buildings in Pittsburgh—it was erected in 1872—Snodgrass school was described as an "overcrowded firetrap" by Attorney James T. Philpott, committee chairman. He said:

We understand Snodgrass School has been scheduled for replacement in 1935 or 1936, but that is too long to wait. We want a new fireproof building with gymnasium and auditorium now. The lack of such a building is retarding the development of Duquesne Heights.

"The original Snodgrass School is a two-story frame building. It has stood for 60 years. The timbers in it are decaying. I dread to think what would happen should fire break out. A brick addition, built 20 years ago, has the only fire escapes on the building."

Because of the lack of an auditorium and gymnasium the present-day school program has been curtailed, members of the committee pointed out. Assemblies are held in the narrow halls of the building, while on the first floor of the brick addition is the school's only gymnasium.

Philpott is being assisted by Joseph A. Heyl, Mrs. Katherine Holcombe, John J. Gardner, Mrs. Elsie Keenan, John Donovan and William Driscoll.

FOES IN DRIVE TO SUPPLANT LAWRENCE

Democratic Group Backing McDonald for Chairman Assails Present Leader

By MARK SHIELDS

Charging that as a result of "either incompetence or questionable leadership," the Democratic party in Allegheny County has lost public confidence, a group of Democrats today called for the election of G. Malcolmn McDonald as county chairman as successor to Chairman David L. Lawrence, who is seeking to retain party control. Democrats elect their county chairman at the primary, April 26.

In attacking the present party leadership, Lawrence and Joseph F. Guffey, former national committeeman, are linked. Both Guffey and Lawrence are attempting to send to the Chicago national convention a delegation pledged to vote for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, for the presidential nomination. A number of those signing the McDonald manifesto are fighting for an uninstructed delegation, and it is probable the two fights, for delegates and county chairman, will be intermingled.

APPEAL MADE

Appeal is made to Democrats now registered as Republicans to revert to their own party on registration day, March 23. The charge is made that the present Democratic county chief is in political alliance with the Republican organization, the last county election when Lawrence was backed for county commissioner by the Republican city machine being cited.

The statement says:

"The function of the Democratic party in Allegheny County is to maintain a clean, militant organization to which the people may turn at all times for relief when the iniquities of the Republican machine become unbearable. The very existence of independent movements demonstrates that the present Democratic leadership in Allegheny County has failed to maintain an organization through which to properly carry on the legitimate functions of a minority party in this county. No constructive policy has been adopted to so build up the party that it may hope to become a majority party. The success of independent movements in the past few years, are in themselves, a repudiation by the people of the Democratic leadership as now constituted.

"It is conceded everywhere that the time is ripe for a revival of Democratic interest, provided the leadership of the party is such as will inspire public confidence and assure to the persons rallying to its standard that the leaders will remain loyal to Democratic principles.

TWO-PARTY SYSTEM

"The restoration of the two-party system is essential to good government in both the city and the county and the election of G. Malcolm McDonald as county chairman will insure a leadership that will devote itself to the restoration of the Democratic party, to the confidence of the people and to the elimination of all alliances between the Democratic party and the Republican machine or any of its factions."

Those signing the statement are: Carl D. Smith, John M. Henry, Paul G. McClelland, George H. Stengel, A. M. Thompson, Thomas H. Hester, C. Gregg Lewellyn, Hugh E. Stewart, John J. Kerr, George R. Norris, John J. Elwell, E. Lowry Humes, Frank F. Sumney, Dr. W. H. Waugaman, Bert M. Musick, Robert Steiner, D. S. Horne, Eugenia S. Henry, Lizzie A. Kultau, Andrew G. Smith, Mary Russell Purman and Mrs. Thomas C. Gabler.

COYNE IN RACE; FAVORS BANK SAFETY BILL

Senator Seeks Re-Election; Urges Assessment Plan To Guarantee Deposits

Proposed legislation to guarantee the safety of bank deposits is the chief plank in the platform of Senator James J. Coyne, of Oakland, who today announced his candidacy for re-election from the Forty-third District. The proposal of Coyne for state banks is similar to legislation now before Congress, sponsored by Senator Glass, of Virginia, applying to national banks.

SIDEWALK PLAN

Coyne renewed the suggestion he made when a candidate for County Commissioner last year that the county construct sidewalks along county roads, thus providing employment and at the same time giving safety to pedestrians. In his statement Coyne said:

"Last fall, when a candidate for the office of Allegheny County Commissioner, I proposed a plan whereby, through the construction of sidewalks along county highways, legitimate and useful employment could be provided for thousands of our idle citizens. Each day now brings fresh evidence to justify the soundness of my platform in that campaign.

"The next session of the Legislature must take cognizance of the gaps in our economic and governmental structure that are being revealed by the present depression. Above all, there must be a measure enacted providing for the compulsory insuring and guaranteeing of the deposits of individuals and corporations in state-chartered banks. I am firmly of the opinion that were it not for the fear that drove thousands to withdraw their deposits from perfectly sound banks we would be well on our way out of the present depression.

CONGRESS BILL

"Congress now has before it a bill guaranteeing deposits of all banks that are members of the Federal Reserve system. Should this measure become a law the very existence of state-chartered banks would depend upon the establishment of a similar system of protection for their depositors.

"What I propose is the creation of an insurance fund through pro-rata assessments on deposits, such assessments to be reduced or abated when the guarantee fund reaches the requisite amount.

"I trust that it will be possible to bring to a vote in the Assembly next year the matter of modifying liquor laws so that the sale of beer and wines may be made legal in this commonwealth.

"As the result of a measure introduced by me in the last session of the Legislature, the Pennsylvania Highway Department has taken over almost 40 miles of streets in the City of Pittsburgh. During the spring and summer the state will expend some $300,000 for new construction work and maintenance, thus furnishing work for hundreds of our citizens now idle."

STEEDLE SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Announcement has been made by Burgess Joseph G. Steedle of McKees Rocks of his candidacy for re-election to the state House of Representatives. Dr. Steedle is chairman of the House appropriations committee and is seeking his tenth term.

In announcing his candidacy he said:

"As a medical man I see the need for a state institution to care for cancer patients who lack funds to obtain proper care. There are institutions for every other serious disease and its time something be done for the unfortunate who must bear the double burden of cancer and poverty.

"I favor a tax on chain stores, with provision that the tax stay in the municipality in which the store operates. I believe the people should have an opportunity to express themselves on prohibition and I favor giving the people a chance to express their will concerning the blue laws. I am opposed to increasing the tax on gasoline.

"I voted for the 'fair rate bill' as I believe consumers are entitled to fair rates for service rendered by public utilities corporations, keeping in mind that the utilities are entitled to a fair rate on their investments. I supported the measure designed to give the soldiers a bonus."

WILL ROGERS SAYS

SANTA MONICA, Cal., March 21.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Congress with an eye, not on the budget, but on November 4, put a tax as high as 72½ on some incomes. That's three-fourths. Congress almost tied pyorrhea, it only gets "four out of five," and Russia only gets half. Course, a man giving up three million out of four is tough, but on the other hand 90 per cent of our people would be willing to give up nine hundred and ninety per cent of a million if allowed to make one. The crime of taxation is not in the taking it, it's in the way that it's spent. Yours, WILL.

Will Rogers

RECORDS FOUND FOR POLL HERE

The work of the Bureau of Elections in preparing for next month's primary election will not be hampered by the absence of sample copies and records of printing forms required by the bureau in previous years, John W. Vickerman, director of the bureau, has announced. On Saturday Vickerman told the County Commissioners that samples of printed forms and records of previous elections had either been destroyed or taken from the elections bureau.

It was thought at first that the absence of the records would mean that a serious difficulty faced officials in obtaining bids on printing for the primaries. A search revealed the records sought were available in other county departmental files and a copy was prepared by Vickerman and his workers Saturday afternoon.

FOREST HILLS SPURS RELIEF

On the assumption 90 per cent of the workers living in Forest Hills Borough are employed, the Forest Hills Civic Club has asked each of them to employ one of the 10 per cent unemployed a day a month at 40 cents an hour, it was announced today.

The Civic Club is working in co-operation with the other clubs of the community in carrying out the relief plan.

The committee from the Civic Club responsible for the plan includes T. D. Yensen, chairman, R. E. Aldridge, David George, J. J. Kennedy, D. D. Knowles, T. A. McDowell and Jacob Saunders. This committee is aided by the Forest Hills Women's Club, League of Women Voters, Bryn Mawr Women's Club and Crescent Hills Women's Club.

Assailant Beats Woman in Doorway

Struck on the head with a weapon by an unknown man who attacked her in the doorway of her home, Mrs. Sadie Freeman, 38, a Negro, of 1318 Pasteur street, was taken to the Mercy Hospital early today. She suffered severe bruises on the head. The slugger made no attempt to rob his victim, running immediately after felling her.

SLEET SNARLS STREET CAR SERVICE

Poles and Trees Crash in Storm; Thousands Delayed In Reaching City Posts

Ice encased trolley wires, resulting from last night's snow, sleet and rain, slowed up street cars today, causing thousands to be late on the first work day of spring.

Two inches of slush on the highways made automobile travel difficult. Crews of the State Highway Department were called out early today in virtually all western counties to cinder steep grades and intersections.

With rain and warmer weather predicted the slush will disappear by tonight, the highways officials stated. Tonight the low temperature will be around 45, Forecaster W. S. Brotzman said.

Trees and poles collapsed under the weight of the ice and snow which froze fast as it struck them.

Spring arrived at 2:54 yesterday afternoon with plenty of sunshine. Last night the weather grew colder and shortly after midnight there was a heavy snowfall.

Belated Winter Rally Blocks Nation's Traffic

Associated Press.

Belated winter blew a spiteful blast at nascent spring today.

Snow dropped almost generally, from the Atlantic seaboard to beyond the Rocky Mountains.

Philadelphia brought out railroad and trolley snowplows for the first time this year. Traffic was hampered. Ferries on the Delaware groped cautiously through blinding flakes.

Freak thunder and lightning startled Chicago's north sides. Snow hit the loop and later became general.

Several inches of snow covered the ground at Cleveland, the storm still blowing.

New Yorkers put on rubbers and hoisted umbrellas against heavy, soggy flakes.

Vote on Gambling Law Asked in Nevada

RENO, Nev., March 21.—(INS.)—Reform groups led by Frank Williams, regent of the State University, moved today to test Nevada's licensed gambling law, a year old today, in a referendum at the November election. The groups contended that the law had increased crime, reduced enrollment at Nevada University here, and drains $750,000 annually from Nevada people with worse than no return.

AMERICAN ARTISTS' WORK SHOWN

58 Paintings Placed On Exhibition At Institute

By PENELOPE REDD

An exhibition of 58 paintings by 36 contemporary American painters opens at Carnegie Institute today. Perhaps a dozen of these painters have been represented in the institute's permanent collection and in other official galleries for a decade or longer.

Miss Redd

The exhibition will satisfy, with few exceptions, those whose taste in art was crystalized 20 years ago.

For those who prefer only the agreeable in art, this show is recommended. The romantic attitude towards painting may be found in every type of subject. Daniel Garber will charm with his landscapes. The late Emil Carlsen and Hovsep Pushman have still life paintings that might be portraits of objects in any grande dame's drawing room.

STOVES AND MATTRESSES . . . CHINATOWN MOVING AGAIN

Old Buildings Will Be Torn Down on Third Avenue

A section of Chinatown along the north side of Third avenue, between Grant and Ross streets, is moving out. Old brick buildings which have housed Chinese shops are to be torn down to make room for a parking station.

The ground, owned by the B. F. Jones, Jr., Properties, Inc., with a frontage of 120 feet on Third avenue, adjoining the Grant Building, has been leased to a downtown parking lot operator. The deal includes a strip 24x85 feet, extending to Fourth avenue and affording an entrance from that street.

The buildings will be wrecked soon and the lot graded. Vacant properties in the main part of Chinatown in the block between Second and Third avenues are expected to take care of the surplus tenants. The entire Chinese colony has moved on a number of occasions. Once it was located at Second avenue, near Market street, and later in Penn avenue, near Fourteenth street.

Well CAUGHT!

A SHARP TINKLE of broken glass! In an instant Mr. Bowman was alert. Raising himself from his pillow he listened intently.

A long silence—then a creak of stealthy footsteps. Someone was downstairs! Cautiously, Mr. Bowman reached for his bedside telephone. "Operator!" he whispered hoarsely. "Send police to 17 Oakmont Street—hurry!"

The three-minute wait seemed interminable. Then lights flashed—running footsteps—muffled exclamations!

"It's all right, sir," came a police officer's hearty voice, "we've got him!" And as Mr. Bowman appeared he added, "You handled it just right!"

Mr. Bowman smiled and shook his head. "You and the telephone can have the credit," he replied.

He thought it would be the last trip on Thursday. Kerolla reached the driveway leading to the emergency room when he slipped. The first fracture suffered no injury. Kerolla is optimistic, saying:

"Well, it's not as bad as the first one. Guess I can get over this break faster."

HOARDERS HELD BOOTLEGGERS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(INS).—Bootleggers are the real hoarders of the nation, according to a pamphlet signed by the Harriman National Bank and issued by the Congressional District Modification League.

The statement declared:

"The real hoarding is by bootleggers. They buy no bonds, real estate, no securities, keep no bank accounts, but hide their enormous gains in safe deposit boxes in good dollars.

"We think the evils of lying, deceit, lawbreaking and murder caused by the endeavor to flee this law, point not to a futile attempt to enforce it, but to amendment. The economic gain would be immeasureable."

SHOT, NEWSBOY MAY RECOVER

AMBRIDGE, Pa., March 21.—Joseph Shelchida, 16, of 651 Glenwood avenue, newsboy shot in the abdomen by a youthful gunman during a holdup in the office of the Mal Realty Company in the Ambridge Theater Building, was in serious condition today in the Valley Hospital, Sewickley. Doctors said he had a "fighting chance" to live.

William M. Lewis, office manager of the realty company, was shot in the right hand, and Margaret Bott, 22, of Five Points, secretary, escaped being struck by bullets in the holdup late Saturday.

According to Miss Bott, the gunman entered the office and waited until a customer left. He asked to see the manager, and was admitted to Lewis' private office.

As Lewis was marched to the outer office, Shelchida answered at the door, crying his papers.

The gunman opened fire on the boy. He ran screaming into the corridor and collapsed. The second shot struck Lewis in the hand.

The gunman escaped.

...is fire of their snug studios ...t slightly but impeccably cor... ...ect exotic tastes there is Blumenschein and Ufer with American Indian subjects and Frieseke with his exquisite Gallicized ladies.

Those vagabonds whose curiosity impels them to adventure in fields not thoroughly conventionalized by polite usage will, however, find a modicum to their taste.

There is Randall Davey's "Unsaddling Enclosure, Cheltenham," which makes one respond regardless of knowledge of horses so vivid is his impression of an imagination-stirring event.

Robert T. Brackman has a modest and thought-provoking canvas in "Girls Reading." Luigi Lucioni is off to such a good start in his superior and thoughtful "Problem in Rhythm" that one hopes he will not be impeded by his phenomenal success.

Carl Schmitt in two paintings, one of his son Austin playing the cello and the other of a vision of St. Francis of Assisi, shows us well integrated compositions. In the descriptive portrait of the boy the forms are developed with sobriety and resonant color to a logical conclusion.

This painting demonstrates form by form a contemporary painter's method of arriving at an inevitable pictorial significance. The St. Francis likewise proves the same aesthetic principle while visualizing ecstasy and evoking the persistent miracle that may be experienced even in these drab days.

This exhibition continues through April 17.

STATE TO GET FREE WHEAT

HARRISBURG, March 21.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot today announced that the National Red Cross would distribute wheat and flour to needy persons in Pennsylvania through local relief agencies and that applications should be made to local Red Cross chapters. He said:

"Under a recent act of Congress wheat and flour may be secured through relief agencies for our millions of near-starving people in Pennsylvania. Since the relief agencies in this state are so very numerous, I am taking this method of complying with the request of the National Red Cross. Any responsible relief group, public or private, may make application for amounts of wheat and flour required to meet actual needs, and their applications will be transmitted to the National Red Cross at Washington for action.

"County poor boards, which are now harassed by an overwhelming problem, may also apply."

EARNINGS SHOW SLIGHT GAIN

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(AP.)—A drop of three-tenths of 1 per cent in industrial employment for February was partially offset by the Bureau of Labor statistics today by a gain of one-tenth of 1 per cent in earnings of the workers.

The figures compared with the previous month, and showed manufacturing employment gaining 1.2 per cent and wage earnings 2.1 per cent. Bituminous coal mining, telegraph and telephone companies, crude petroleum operators all experienced decreases in numbers employed, together with small gains in earnings. Hotels and canning plants, as well as manufacturing, reported gains in employment and earnings, while all other classes showed decreases under both headings.

Reporting manufacturing establishments set operation at 87 per cent of full time, a gain of 1 per cent for the month.

How to Get an Accurate Poll On Rum Question

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

Impossible to get an accurate wet-dry poll of Congress while the boys are sitting down.

Here's the only accurate method indorsed by the police for ages.

Get 'em on their feet and draw a chalk line down the main aisle.

Then make 'em say "Truly rural."

Have you noticed the way the representatives act toward new bills this session? If it's beer or something for the good of the people they start an argument that would knock the lid off an iron kettle.

But if it's income taxes they're all smiles like a favorite nephew at a rich uncle's bedside.

The income tax is now on a war basis.

They're ain't any war. But there might as well be.

FREED IN BOGUS MONEY CHARGE

W. A. Landvoigt, United States Secret Service operative in charge of the Pittsburgh district, who conducted an investigation to learn the identity of the passer of three counterfeit $5 Federal Reserve Bank notes in a dice game in Greensburg two weeks ago, said nothing was ascertained indicating it was the work of a "ring" preying on gambling games.

Paul Del Vitto, formerly of Jeannette, who was said to have backed the game and his friend, Albert Clauss, of Akron, O., voluntarily visited the Secret Service office and gave a satisfactory account of themselves. Landvoigt said Earl Ted Wright, an alleged participant in the game, who had been turned over to the government officers by Police Chief George Westover, of Greensburg, was released by Landvoigt after being interrogated.

It was said that more than 20 men played in the game.

More effective for Colds than all the drugs in the world...

the hot MUSTARD bath

WHEN you feel a cold coming on, don't dose yourself with drugs. Doctors say that this is ineffective and dangerous.

Play safe—and at the same time get results with the treatment that the best modern doctors approve—the hot mustard bath.

Before retiring, fill your tub with hot water. Put four heaping tablespoons of Colman's Mustard into a cup with a little cold water and blend until it forms a thin paste. Pour this into your tub, mix well, hop in and lie in the warm water for ten to fifteen minutes. Dry gently on a soft towel, get into bed and cover up.

The mustard will not burn. You feel it only as a gentle warmth.

You'll wake up in the morning with every cold symptom gone. That is, if you've taken the cold in time. But even advanced colds are helped by a mustard bath.

Always keep Colman's in your bathroom and your kitchen, because only in Colman's do you find such wonderful medicinal properties. At all grocers and druggists.

Mustard is one of the oldest and most effective remedies known. It was used by Hippocrates, the "Father of Medicine," 400 B.C. and it is still listed as "official" among curative drugs.

THROWING ARM AFFECTS FLAG RACE

Hughes Critz

THE THROWING ARM of a single player may be a weight [illegible] the National League pennant race. Right it will make [illegible] a certain flag contender, possibly a winner. [illegible] it threatens to interfere seriously with his team's chances, perhaps to the point of ruining them. Hughes Critz is the player in question, and the recovery of continued lameness of the flipper that failed the little second baseman last year will have a tremendous bearing on the prospects of the Giants.

In no other major training camp this spring has there been such great suspense over the condition of an individual athlete. Passing weeks have not lessened the uncertainty. Occasionally Critz has thrown with a semblance of his old snap and accuracy. Then he has gone back to nursing the arm and fearing to take a chance with it. A muscle specialist who is treating him advised rest. [illegible] McGraw thinks the best way to get the wing [illegible] of the season is to throw with it. What the [illegible] advises.

[illegible] Phil Lage [illegible] one [illegible] come and [illegible] be a hard blow to the New York cause. With Critz [illegible] Giants will have the best infield in baseball. Freddie Lindstrom [illegible] the outfield and the club will be a tough one to beat.

If Critz can't play, it means bringing Lindstrom in to second base. That will weaken both the infield and outfield. Or to keep Lindstrom in the outfield, Eddie Moore must be used at second, and there's no telling [illegible] combination how the one-time Pirate is going to [illegible] the [illegible] problems with which [illegible] be faced.

AS MANAGER JOHN MCGRAW sees it, the real test of a ball player comes when he makes a mistake. If he takes it to heart and wilts it may ruin him. If he gets his teeth and resolves to fight it down, it may be the making of him.

It is Johnson's contention that mistakes never break a real player. One with the right kind of heart. They will not check his advancement but rather spur him on, if he has the courage to come back.

THE WASHINGTON MANAGER points to numerous cases in baseball where a player, otherwise well equipped for success, has allowed himself to be beaten by a mistake, lost his grip and turned out a failure—just because he thought his blunder was final. Then he recalls just as many other instances in which players were mediocre in ability at the time came crashing back to stardom because they wouldn't let a mistake down them. "Mistakes have made many great players when they would have been only ordinary performers had not a blunder or given them a new fighting spirit," Johnson says.

Walter Johnson

"WHEN BABE RUTH came back after many mistakes that had him all but down for the count, he showed he had the real stuff. He would have been an ordinary player had he believed that his mistake was final and let it get him," Johnson says.

Besides Johnson argues only the players who try to do something which the fans cheer will not attempt make mistakes. The clever-fielding player makes few mistakes because he attempts little. The worst blunder in baseball, according to Johnson, is for a pitcher to throw down his glove in disgust when he is being whipped. Walking out of the box in temper, he says, is the greatest display of the white feather.

UNLIKE [illegible] AND [illegible] Phar Lap's [illegible] is one invading race [illegible] which must be ranked as all that he was cracked up to be. [illegible] manner in which he won the Agua Caliente Handicap [illegible] at 10 Australian starters in his first test on this continent proves the Australian champion the real thing.

Sometime a horse wins because of racing luck or because the opposing field is a set class, but there can be no question about the victory when he breaks the track record, as Phar Lap did in setting a new course mark of 2:02 4-5 for the mile and a quarter. The invader spells trouble for America's best handicap runners and will put new color and interest in a turf season that until now was none too promising.

THE CUBS WILL have to know their Taylors better. Having so many of them caused a heap of confusion in a practice game with the Giants. In a seventh inning, Harry Taylor, South Hills product, was sent in to run for Gabby Hartnett and remained in the game to play first base in place of Charley Grimm, while Zack Taylor relieved Hartnett behind the plate. Under the rules, that put Harry Taylor in Hartnett's place in the batting order, and Zack Taylor in Grimm's. But in the eighth inning Harry came up to bat in Grimm's position, when Zack should have appeared. Harry singled to center, scoring Johnny Moore. When Travis Jackson called the attention of Umpire Bronx Reardon to the mistake, Zack, the proper batsman, of course was called out. Moore was sent back to third base and Harry was ordered to bit over again. So he did—and hammered another single to center, scoring Moore a second time. This time it counted. If they had stuck Dennis Taylor in there somewhere they might still be trying to figure it out.

PROFESSIONAL BOXING HAS been hard hit in many sections of the country this season, but nowhere harder than on the Pacific Coast. Only the [illegible] have been getting by. Many of the smaller clubs have closed their doors and others have gone amateur. Hayden Wadhams, veteran matchmaker for Jack Doyle in Los Angeles, says this is the worst he's ever seen.

Wadhams relates that Pete Sarmiento, once a famous Filipino fighter, came into his office. Sarmiento has been done for several years as a ring battler. He had 25 cents in his pocket. The athletic commission had turned off his [illegible] and light. He wanted a hand.

OUT IN LOS ANGELES they're [illegible] as to whether the world record for pitching 100 yards is a football or baseball. All that they can agree on is that it's either 9.8 or 10 seconds flat, but whatever it is Frank Wykoff holds it.

An argument between Wykoff and Cliff Capps, Southern California basketball star, broke it about. Wykoff declared he could do the century in football togs in 10 seconds [illegible] and Capps scoffed.

Frank Wykoff

DUNNING, A COMPLETE gridiron outfit—suit, pads, helmet and the rest, including cleated shoes instead of spikes—Wykoff ran 130 yards, giving himself a flying start of 30 yards. He was paced by Alvin Koenig, attired in his regular track suit. Koenig himself is a fast sprinter, but at the finish he was only five yards ahead of Wykoff, running the full 130 yards and gaining about three yards in the actual century. Four watches caught Wykoff at 9.5 for the last 100 yards and one registered 10 flat. Now they're speculating as to what Wykoff might do without the flying start. Jack Elder, former Notre Dame star, was once timed in 11.2 seconds for the hundred in his grid clothes, but he had only a standing start.

'FRISCO SEALS BEATEN TWICE BY BUCCOS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. One of the Pirates' biggest nemesis of last season, left-handed pitchers, will not be tolerated this season if their actions displayed yesterday in a batting way is continued.

The Buccos will meet the Missions in an exhibition game at Woodland, Cal., the training camp of the latter team, today.

PORTSIDER FAILS

Manager Jimmy Cavenney of the Seals decided to ape several National League pilots who were in the habit of sending port siders against the Pirates last year and sent Arthur McDougal against the Bucs in the final game of their series yesterday. Cavenney was in high spirits for six innings as McDougal mowed Alon as serenely as the summer breeze, but his exhilaration was blasted in the seventh, along with everything that McDougal served up, as the Corsairs pounded out six hits to score seven runs and pack the game away in one.

Yesterday the Bucs beat the Seals twice, winning the morning game 3 to 2 and the afternoon battle 8 to 4.

It was not the first time this season the Bucs have pounded a left-hander. Last Tuesday Joe Devine, Mission pilot, used Jim Johnson, a port sider, against the Bucs and found to his sorrow that his strategy was of no avail.

Manager Gibson has been doing a little shifting in the last few days. His second-string outfield, consisting of Jensen, Barbee and Dugas, has been seeing plenty of action.

INFIELD JUGGLED

The infield also has been juggled around quite a bit by the Pirate skipper. Gibby has been using a pony combination as his second-string infield with Paul Waner at first, Howdy Groskloss at second, Vaughan at short and Tony Piet moving from second to third.

Chilly weather with a brisk wind has descended upon Frisco in the past few days and it has hampered the playing of baseball considerably. High flies are difficult to judge, the wind doing all sorts of tricks with the ball before letting it come to earth.

The Pirates' daily drills have been tempered somewhat as a result of the weather, Gibson ordering his players to take the drills rather light so as to not perspire too much and place themselves in danger of catching colds.

SARAZEN COPS $10,000 OPEN

A stroke behind were Walter Hagen and Paul Runyan, Metropolitan champion.

Johnny Farrell won fourth money with 289. Ralph Guhldahl, St. Louis, took fifth money with 290, while Herman Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., and Wild Bill Mehlhorn, New York, winner of the 1929 $15,000 La Gorce open, were next in the money with 292's.

A Negro world series is in prospect next fall as a result of the formation of the East-West League, of which the Homestead Grays are a member . . . The league will play a split-season schedule, with the winner of each half, if the same team does not win both ends, meeting in a playoff series for the title . . . The league will operate along the lines of those in organized baseball, with a traveling staff of umpires to be paid by the league . . . The Grays will play their first home game at Forbes Field, Saturday, May 7 . . . against Cleveland . . . Cleveland also is booked here for Memorial Day, and the Cubans and Hilldale also will play here during the month of May . . . What is hoped will be a healthy local rivalry will be in effect throughout the season between the Grays and Gus Greenlee's Crawford Stars, of the Hill, who will play in their own modern park . . . Both the Grays and the Crawfords, who include a number of former Grays players on their roster, now are engaging in spring training away from home.

A movement is under way around the country to place a new designation on the results of bouts that are stopped because of injuries such as cut eyes, due to butting, or other accidents . . . It is obviously unfair to have a boxer charged with a technical knockout defeat under such circumstances, and, on the other hand, many legitimate technical knockout reverses in the records are explained away in later years as having been due to such eventualities . . . "Stpd; cut eye" or "Stpd; injury," might be a better way to enter accidental finishes in the records.

MUCK IN MONEY

DETROIT, March 21. — Braddock pinsters found the going tough in A. B. C. events yesterday. R. Muck, of Muck Brothers' No. 2 team, shot a 587 in the singles to edge into the prize money. He gave his partner, E. Hugo, a ride in the doubles, having a 609 series, but Hugo could not follow the pace and they quit at 1101 for Braddock's best doubles score.

The team hit 2570 Saturday night, its games being 856, 836 and 878.

The Braddock scores:

Doubles—E. Hugo and R. Muck, 1101; B. Kubell and F. Parlock, 1063; W. Kopa and M. Germ, 1015; W. Callahan and F. Pfeil, 874.

Billy Knox, who holds the all-events record, 2,619, shot at Milwaukee, in 1923, will perform tonight.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

April 7—Penn State College.

The quintets of New Kensington and Braddock high schools are primed and eager for battle on the eve of their conquest for the W. P. I. A. L. championship at the Pitt Stadium pavilion tomorrow night. The finalists are on edge for the encounter, and a fight of the fiercest sort is anticipated.

Ken High, seeking another championship, is favored over the Braddock lads who have yet to garner a title, although having been within a hair's breadth of one on several occasions, in 1916 and 1917 in particular, when they attained the final.

Carl Glock has his proteges in the well-known "pink," and it will not be a great surprise package to him if the boys trot back to New Kensington with a second W. P. I. A. L. gonfalon under their wing.

The winner of tomorrow night's game tackles Fifth Avenue High in the P. I. A. A. series Saturday night. Fifth Avenue, which finished down in the City League, although the top team in that circuit affiliated with the state group, had remarkable success in its first P. I. A. A. engagement, defeating Huntingdon Saturday night, 34-27.

Baxter Case Before Hockey Heads Today

Charley Reid, coach of the Yellow Jackets, is attending a meeting of the International Hockey League directors in Buffalo today. The directors are in session to arrange the annual title play-offs, but Reid is in attendance to determine whether Goalie Sonny Boy Baxter is regarded as a free agent or the property of the Cleveland club.

Baxter, some time ago announced that he had no contract, that the Indians owed him back salary, and that he would prefer to play in Pittsburgh next season. If the loop chiefs rule Sonny Boy a free agent, he will be signed by Pittsburgh.

Boxing Boycott Follows Close Go

HONOLULU, March 21. (AP.)—Several thousand Filipinos have announced a boycott against boxing matches as a result of an unpopular decision awarded Midget Wolgast, Saturday night, over Little Pancho, of Manila. The bout was extremely close. Wolgast's flyweight title, recognized in some states, was not at stake. During the sixth round they stood in the center and slugged it out. Wolgast then slowed up, apparently tiring. He weighed 115 and Pancho 114.

Nick Altrock Says:

MOBILE, Ala., March 21.—I see Babe Ruth finally agreed to take depression wages this season. He now is willing to work for the President's salary. Hoover also gets his traveling expenses paid extra, but so does Ruth. Still, Hoover has a boat he can take for excursions up and down the Potomac, and Ruppert is lucky the Babe didn't demand a steam yacht thrown in.

Nick Altrock

I understand Babe is satisfied to get Hoover's pay this year, but he warned Ruppert not to try to cut him down to a Vice President's wages in 1933.

Well, I figured up my own income last week and found out I will have to pay my taxes to the government only in laughs—which puts me ahead of Ruth.

PHAR LAP WINS 'CALIENTE RACE

WONDER HORSE NEAR LEAD IN EARNINGS

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, March 21 (AP)—Phar Lap, Australian wonder horse yesterday won the $50,000 Agua Caliente Handicap. Reveille Boy was second, Scimitar third and Joe Flores fourth.

Phar Lap in winning broke the track record for the mile and a quarter. The big Australian thoroughbred ran the distance in 2 minutes 2 4-5 seconds.

Like the flash of lighting his name implies, the giant gelding thundered down the stretch to win by two lengths.

It all seemed so simple the way this son of Night Raid by Entreaty did exactly what his trainer, Tom Woodcock, said he would do. There was no whispered huddle before the race with Billy Elliott, Phar Lap's Australian jockey. Woodcock broadcast to the world that the big 6-year-old would hold back at the start, move out fast on the back stretch and then pull away on the home spurt. He did just exactly that.

PULLS AWAY AT FINISH

Phar Lap showed none of the effects of his 10,000-mile ocean trip from Australia slightly more than two months ago. The way he held back going away from the post gave his backers a few uneasy moments as he passed the grandstand in seventh place, with Cabezo in front by a length.

Jockey Elliott gave him the bit on the back stretch and he leaped forward, going into the final turn four lengths ahead. The complexion of things had changed, however, as the pack of 11 starters turned home, for Reveille Boy had advanced rapidly.

They ran neck-and-neck for a breath-taking instant as Bob Wholey, Reveille Boy's rider, applied the lash. Elliott gave Phar Lap the whip, and he pulled away, increasing his lead at the end. He wheeled and came back to the winner's circle breathing easily.

After the first four the field finished in the following order:

Fifth, Marine; sixth, Good and Hot; seventh, Seth's Horse; eighth, Spanish Flag; ninth, Dr. Freeland; tenth, Bahamas; and eleventh, Cabezo.

SETS TRACK RECORD

Phar Lap paid $5 to win or $2 part mutuel tickets, $6.60 to place and $2.80 to show. Reveille Boy placed at $6.20 and $5.40 to show, while Scimitar paid $6 for third.

The former track record of 2 minutes 3 seconds was set last year by Mike Hall.

The race was Phar Lap's first start on the North American continent. David Davis, co-owner with H. R. Telford, is undecided what Phar Lap's campaign in the United States will include, but it is considered quite likely he will be shipped to Washington Park, Chicago, from here, to continue in quest of the leading money winner honors there.

EARNINGS REACH $332,750

NEW YORK, March 21.—(AP)—Phar Lap's victory in the Agua Caliente Handicap enabled the Australian 5-year-old to take second place in the list of the world's great money winners.

Phar Lap now has won $332,750, and trails the great American thoroughbred, Sun Beau, by more than $33,000. Sun Beau, now retired, earned $376,744.

Gallant Fox, runner-up to Sun Beau until yesterday, drops into third place with $328,165.

N. B. A. Opens War On 'Racketeers'

CINCINNATI, March 21.—(AP)—A fight by the National Boxing Association to clear the trade of racketeers was under way today. A call has been sent out to all boxing commissions affiliated with the national organization to draw the check rein on "fake" bouts, obvious mismatches, and attempts to build up false reputations.

If, despite those precautions, odorous affairs are foisted on the faithful, the national association suggests that those responsible be permanently suspended from activities in the states where the N. B. A. holds sway.

What was the immediate cause of the broadcast was not known.

Five Emricks Follow in Dad's Footsteps

ROSS EMRICK, BOB EMRICK, SAM EMRICK, ALBERT EMRICK, COACH ED PAULIE

MR. AND MRS. C. R. EMRICK

HOWARD EMRICK

The Emricks, of Swissvale, are deserving of the title "The Royal Family of Athletics" as a result of the achievements of the father and his five sons in all fields of sport endeavor. The father was a pitcher for 15 years and also took part in amateur boxing and basketball; Ross and Bob, Swissvale High athletes, have starred in basketball and football in high school and also were members of the Swissvale American Legion baseball team; Howard is a former basketball and football star at Geneva College; Sam showed a lot of promise until illness forced him to abandon sports, and Albert, the youngest, is being groomed for a fling in athletics. Ed Paulie is the coach at Swissvale High and has played a big part in the athletic development of the Emricks. These are Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph pictures.

FIVE BROTHERS SPORT STARS

By JULIUS LEVIN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross Emrick, of 7483 Church street, Swissvale, are the proud parents of five boys, all prominently identified with athletics. In fact, the boys have starred on so many athletic fronts that at times it is difficult for the parents to keep an accurate check on their achievements.

The senior Emrick himself is a former athlete of renown. The father of the "Royal Family of Athletics," as the Emricks are known, was a pitcher for 15 years, playing for the Braddock Independents and the Braddock and McKeesport clubs in the old Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland League. He also played basketball with the Carnegie Club, of Braddock, appearing in several games against Honus Wagner when the greatest of all major league shortstops was leading the old Carnegie basketball team. He also enjoyed considerable success as an amateur boxer, winning 19 out of 20 bouts as a middleweight.

FORMER GENEVA CAPTAIN

Howard Emrick, the oldest of the boys, won his athletic spurs in football and basketball at Geneva College. He was captain of the Covenanters in football in 1929, playing halfback and quarterback. He was chosen all Tri-State Conference guard in basketball. He now is studying for the ministry in Westminster Seminary, Md.

Sam showed much promise as an athlete until illness forced him to abandon all sports. Ross and Bob, the two boys who helped Swissvale High School win the Section XI championship and also a first-round game from East Pittsburgh High in the W. P. I. A. L. eliminations, both starred for the Swissvale American Legion team that won the state baseball championship last season. Ross plays guard and Bob plays forward in basketball, while in baseball Ross is shortstop and Bob a second baseman. Both will be available for next year's Swissvale High quintet.

YOUNGEST BOY AGED 9

Albert, the youngest of the boys, already is pointing for an athletic career. He is a student in the fourth grade of the McKelvey School, in Swissvale, but he has shown considerable promise in basketball, a sport he favors.

Howard is 24 years old, Sam 20, Ross 17, Bob 15 and Albert 9.

The Emricks are proud of the athletic feats of their five boys and never miss an opportunity to see them play. The father has the unique distinction of being Swissvale High School's most loyal supporter, having seen every game played by its teams during the past three years.

International Net Match Under Way

NEW YORK, March 21.—(AP)—With the new national indoor singles and doubles champions and the singles runner-up composing the United States team, America is the favorite to defeat France in the third international team match between the two countries which starts today at the Seventh Regiment Armory.

HEALY BOWLS 300

Ted Healy, of Wilkinsburg, is the latest bowler to roll a 300 score in duckpins. He turned the trick in the Casino alleys, South Avenue, Wilkinsburg, in a practice game. He is a member of the Casino No. 2 team.

CHILLYSAUCE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

George Gibson already is reaping fruits from intensive training. The Pirates are winning regularly on the Coast. It often is contended that these games have little or no significance, yet they are beneficial just as far as they engender spirit, and it is obvious the Buccos are hustling, for the Coast Leaguers are jealous of their standing — in other words, they love to take the measure of the big leaguers.

Spirit was the keynote of the dramatic rush of Gibby's 1921 entry. This mediocre club was kin to his present combination. The team of 11 years ago had an unsettled infield, third base and second base being in a muddled state and the two positions were somewhat blurred as the race wore on, yet the players fought hard and stayed on the pinnacle until September, when they bowed to the rush of the Giants.

The Buccos of 1932, nevertheless, will have to blend a lot of skill with aggressiveness if they are to cop a first division berth. When they rode the crest in 1921 the circuit had a flock of in-and-out contenders. About August 1 of that year the Phillies sold Dave Bancroft and Irish Meusel to the Giants in a deal that smelled to the heavens and the Giants were "made" for years to come.

As the clubs of the National prepare to go to the starting line it is admitted that there are at least three clever contenders for the pennant. The world champion Cardinals are one of the finest clubs that game has produced in years and the Redbirds realize they have some warm rivals in the Giants and Cubs, not to mention the Dodgers, whose outlook has mounted since Stripp, Cuccinello and Sukeforth threw off the chains of Redland slavery to carry the Brooklyn banner.

So the Buccos have their work cut out for them if they are to win a money berth. Gibby, however, is pursuing a pleasing preparatory plan. He is dealing a lot with his rookies and in the event that about two of them come through for him he will have a lot of fun with the boys who pick him as a sure shot for the lower tier. Let Finney and one or two other youngsters deliver the goods and the Buccos will be bad news in all cities of the senior wheel.

It might be mentioned that Joe McCarthy, in 1926, assembled a motley crew of Cubs and without making many changes in his roster transformed his misfits into a flag contender. Marse Joe used much of the same tonic prescribed by Gibson—the gospel of hustle. And McCarthy, in his five-year reign in Chicago, just about made Wrigley Field the capitol of the baseball world; his club outdrew all others as it won one flag and stayed in the thick of four pennant races.

ST. PATRICK'S COPS CROWN

CHICAGO, March 21.—(AP)—St. Patrick's Academy, of Chicago, defeated St. Mel, of Chicago, 22 to 20, in the tourney final last night for the national Catholic scholastic basketball championship of the United States.

St. Mel led, 14 to 10, at half time, but was held scoreless in the last quarter.

Father Ryan, of Nashville, Tenn., defeated Campion Prep, of Prairie Du Chien, Wisconsin, 25 to 23, to win third place in the tournament.

DUKES' TENNIS CARD FOR '32 ANNOUNCED

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

The initial gun of what promises to prove an unprecedentedly successful 1932 local tennis season will bark on the Bluff asphalt courts on Saturday, April 23, as Grant Siverd's Duquesne University racqueters entertain the crack Pitt brigade of Dr. Billy McElroy.

The Duke net card, released today by Graduate Manager John D. Holahan, follows custom by hurtling the Hilltoppers into action as part and parcel of the district inaugural, after which the Red and Blue delegation will continue through a stiff program totaling 13 matches between opening day and May 28.

Seven of the baker's dozen tussles of the Dukes will be staged on the Hill, the remaining six being slated for foreign fields. Home-and-home affairs are billed with Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Geneva, Wash-Jeff, Grove City and Waynesburg. Temple University, the lone invader from territory outside of Western Pennsylvania, will visit the Bluffites and will not be met in return fray in the Owls' Philadelphia ballwick.

MUST REBUILD TEAM

The Dukes, weakened by loss of Capt. Andy Smeaton, Jimmy Campbell, Ray Boland and Al Berkowits of the 1931 combine, must build anew around the nucleus of Regis Bullion, Frank Casey and Joe O'Neill. Bullion, Homestead senior and a regular for the past two campaigns, will serve as captain. He will battle with his fellow-townsman Casey for the number 1 post of the troupe while O'Neill, Sosson and several sophomore contenders will fight it out for the lower positions. Mentor Siverd, veteran P. A. A. southpaw, will be aided at the coaching task by a trio of his former proteges, Sam Keller, Andy Smeaton and Sullivan. Smeaton, ace of the team for four years, to include 1931, will devote special attention to the development of the freshman outfit, which will be summoned to practice sessions along with the varsity immediately after the Easter holidays. The schedule:

April 18—University of Pittsburgh at Duquesne.
April 21—Carnegie Tech at Duquesne.
April 23—Geneva College at Duquesne.
May 2—University of Pittsburgh at Pitt.
May 6—Carnegie Tech at Tech.
May 7—Waynesburg College at Waynesburg.
May 9—Washington and Jefferson College at Duquesne.
May 10—Grove City College at Duquesne.
May 13—Temple University at Duquesne.
May 17—Grove City College at Grove City.
May 19—Washington and Jefferson College at Washington.
May 23—Waynesburg College at Duquesne.
May 28—Geneva College at Beaver Falls.

SCHOOL HEADS GATHER

The newly-formed district Interscholastic Tennis Conference will meet in special session at Taylor Allderdice High School tonight, evening at 8 o'clock. Representatives of all 10 affiliated schools will be on hand for the conclave, at which definite plans for the first season of the bi-divisional loop will be discussed.

MORGAN WINS OVER CECIL

By TOM BIRKS

Scoring at will on a field that resembled a swamp at one end, Morgan practically clinched the Keystone League title by beating Cecil, 13 goals to 1, at Morgantown yesterday afternoon.

In the Charity Cup, the Morry-Curry game was won by the Morrys, McGrevan scored the only goal midway in the first half. A large crowd watched the game at South Park. The honors were about even, but the session certainly got plenty rough in the second half.

The replay of the Charity Cup game at Grove found the Green and Gold of Heidelberg winning, 2 goals to 0.

It is possible the cup committee will put on the West Penn final Sunday at South Park, seeing that Union Switch and the Morrys came through in their Charity Cup games.

The Morrys officials have written to the national body protesting against the treatment accorded the club in Cleveland when the locals lost to the Shamrocks. The game is not being protested, and the Shamrocks are given a clean bill of health in the letter.

The goal-scoring in the Morgan-Cecil tilt found the Burnaby outfit scoring five markers in the first half. Seven goals more were scored in the second half. Cecil seemed to play good enough soccer, but Morgan scored each time it reached the danger zone. The Morry-Cecil lineup:

| Morgan—13 | | Cecil—1 |
|---|---|---|
| Burnaby | G | Smith |
| Cyle | R B | Aston |
| Chanic | L B | |
| Fravel | R H | Lorbacher |

Washington Is Causing Fresh Banking Worry

By B. C. FORBES

Mr. Forbes

SOMETHING ALWAYS is occurring to worry those who control the most powerful banking strings. This time it is the re-introduction of the Glass bank bill which threw bankers into a panic that caused the prompt passage of the Glass-Steagall bill a truly constructive measure.

The latest Glass measure has precipitated fresh alarm throughout the banking world. It is dubbed "deflationary." It would play havoc with the functioning of the nation's principal security markets, bankers and brokers alike protest.

CERTAIN IT IS that the national economic health hasn't yet recovered sufficiently to withstand unlimited shocks. There are at least three situations in different parts of the continent which have been inciting acute uneasiness. Securities of the interests involved have shrivelled to panic figures.

Congress has been co-operating acceptably in enacting constructive machinery. But last week the financial world was seriously disturbed by threatened scrapping of the tax proposals which seemed certain of approval and by the announced determination of Senator Glass to push through his bank bill without material modification.

Under these circumstances, it was natural that the security markets should experience unsettlement. The net loss for the week approximately 7 per cent in stocks, while bonds also reversed their previous upward trend.

OF COURSE, there were other disturbing developments outside of Washington. In its jumpy state Wall street was unwarrantedly upset by the trial Kreuger and George Eastman suicides. Reported dissension between Gen. Dawes and Gov. Meyer, heads of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, did not help matters. Dawes, rumor has it, wants the R. F. C. to go the whole hog in bailing out railroads having maturing obligations, whereas Meyer insists that interested railroad bankers shoulder part of the burden. If that actually be the lineup, Meyer's is the sounder attitude.

The nation's leading bankers have already incurred such widespread, emphatic ill will that they themselves should move heaven and earth to avoid giving the public fresh cause for criticism.

RAILWAY DEVELOPMENTS, curiously, have also furnished grounds for new hopefulness. February reports already to hand contain pleasant surprises in the form of distinctly improved net earnings. It would be illogical were not the wage reduction and the rate increase to bear rather substantial fruit. So accustomed have people become to look only for the unfavorable that anything favorable incites astonishment.

It may well be that the turn has already come for the railroads, notwithstanding that traffic thus far shows no expansion.

THE ARRIVAL of spring doesn't find trade and industry moving uniformly forward; irregularity still rules. This is true alike of commodity prices and of business volume. Employment reports are a shade better, but still grave enough to warrant profound concern on the part of every responsible citizen.

NO GREAT co-operative, constructive movement has yet been essayed by the country's foremost men of affairs. Motor manufacturers lead in exercising courageous enterprise. The point has not been reached where concerted action by those who have the most at stake could probably prove effective. It is hardly conceivable that most raw materials or commodities can sink much further. Even moderate forward buying might start the long overdue recovery.

Until recovery is vigorously under way, will Washington and Wall street please avoid doing anything calculated to make unemployment worse?

TRADE UPTURN HOPES REVIVE WITH SPRING

Invisible Factors Indicate Favorable Change Despite Dark Near Term Outlook

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER

Mr. Rukeyser

NEW YORK, March 21.—With the advent of spring, the season for reviving hopes and for advances in employment, sponsored by the calendar, is at hand.

It comes at a time when the effect of the narcotic consisting of the reconstruction program has begun to wear off. Hard-boiled appraisers of the near term outlook who buy and sell shares at the market place now emphasize the lack of improvement in trade news.

Furthermore the tax revolt in Congress which threatened to upset a tax plan which seemed helpful to business and reports of hitches in the relations between the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and certain bankers had an adverse effect of sentiment, as did the suicide of two world famous industrialists.

As sentiment blows hot one day and cold the next the financial public is befuddled by the time factor. Unquestionably there is a lag between cause and effect. Even if the present reconstruction program were going to prove beneficial to business and employment there was no reason to expect immediate results. Some critics of the administration believe that the relief measures were poorly timed and would have been far more efficacious earlier as preventive measures.

As time elapses it becomes increasingly clear that the basic problem is to repair disrupted purchasing power by bringing inactive consumers among the unemployed and the pauperized farmers back into the ranks of those with purchasing power. With buying power restored, the problem of surpluses and overproduction will tend to solve itself.

But in spite of tardiness in applying fundamental remedies there is evidence of an increasing public disposition to face the facts, and do what is necessary. That is a basis for qualified hopefulness. With prices where they are it is rather late in the cycle for unguarded pessimism. The country seems to be in a position which recalls that which prevailed in August, 1929, when the boom had its last fling.

The visible trade news, in the form of earnings reports, employment statistics, and exports, was highly optimistic in character, yet the prophetic news, which was conditioning the future, was of a different character.

Brokers' loans were dangerously high. New York was draining the rest of the world for liquid credit and threatening foreign purchasing power, security prices were high in terms of earnings and assets, and there were other invisible factors which indicated that the future would be different from the present or the recent past.

Now the situation is in reverse. Corporation reports, employment statistics, and car loadings are indicative only of maximum depression, but the invisible factors, in the form of new banking policies, are raising hopes of an impending change in trend.

COTTON SHOWS RECESSIONS

NEW YORK, March 21.—Cotton opened easy today at a decline of 1 to 5 points on southern selling promoted by easy cables. May sold at 6.71c.

The report of the Census Bureau showing ginnings for the season of 16,595,780 running bales, or 17,060,772 equivalents 500-pound bales, was closely in line with the government estimate of last December, but if anything slightly above expectations.

The nervousness caused by the Washington advices of late last week seemed to be subsiding following reassuring statements from Secretary Hyde and the Federal Farm Board with reference to the marketing of supplies, but sentiment seem to be still rather unsettled. Active months sold about 5 to 10 points net lower with May declining to 6.67c and October to 7.07c under some further liquidation and a little southern and commission house selling.

The market continued quiet later in the morning and ruled rather steadier after the early offerings had been absorbed, with prices working up a few points from the lowest on a little trade buying and covering.

CHICAGO GRAIN TAKES RISE

CHICAGO, March 21.—Announcement that France had raised her wheat import quota 8 per cent helped give an early upward trend to grain values today. Statements credited to Chairman Stone of the Federal Farm Board that proposals to finance United States wheat sales abroad implied no suggestion of dumping in Europe or elsewhere acted also as a strengthening factor. Opening unchanged to ¼ cent higher, wheat afterward advanced all around. Corn started unchanged to ¾ cent up and subsequently showed a general rise.

New enlargement today of the quantity of foreign wheat allowed to be mixed with native wheat in France lifted the total to 35 per cent. Bulls put stress also on 1,632,000 bushels decrease of the aggregate of wheat afloat for importing countries as compared with a week ago. Absence of any material selling pressure here or at Liverpool was also construed as bullish, and buyers were more plentiful than on Saturday, with export demand better.

Bears contended, however, that price advances were likely to be limited until the Farm Board's selling policy was further clarified.

NEW YORK, March 21.—(AP).—A realignment of water power properties of the International Paper and Power Company has been effected through the transfer of the bulk of properties in the United States owned and controlled by the International Paper Company to the International Hydro-Electric System, it was announced today. The purchase price was $31,700,000, according to the announcement.

International Hydro-Electric and International Paper companies are subsidiaries of the International Paper and Power Company. The properties involved in the deal have a total developed capacity of 130,000 horsepower, the statement said. They are located in New York, New Hampshire and Maine.

The statement said the transaction involves no new financing since the International Hydro-Electric Company had the required funds available from the sale of class A stock in September, 1930.

Lily Lou Is Alarmed When Doctor Threatens to Cable Her Folks

CHAPTER XI.

"I could give him away," she told the rosy sister who was trying to make her to drink something out of a glass tube. "If it were not for his ears. His ears are like Ken's. I saw that the first thing. That's why I didn't want to look at him. That was why. You didn't understand, did you?"

She [illegible] this answer [illegible] hands [illegible] a hopeless gesture [illegible] didn't speak English. It [illegible] that was the trouble [illegible] to know some German [illegible] could not remember [illegible] She tried again, speaking very slowly and distinctly.

"I could [illegible] him away to Susanne [illegible] he were like Ken. [illegible] didn't want to look at him. I [illegible] help it. I've got [illegible] give him away. [illegible] Susanne family. [illegible] away too much. I [illegible] take Ken away from [illegible] and it was wrong. I shouldn't have let them. I [illegible] have kept Ken and my baby. I left it on the table in the hall. It was made of diamonds but on the inside it said, Ken to Lily Lou forever and ever. Do you understand? Forever and ever, but I let his family tell me."

"Shh!" Susanne said.

Sleep. When she wanted to they wouldn't let her, and now . . .

ASKS FOR BABY

Lily Lou tried to sit up and was a little surprised to see that nothing happened she remained lying flat on the pillows. She felt if she sat up she could talk louder and then the sister would understand.

She began again. "So if you don't mind I'd like to have him for a little while. I would be very careful of him."

But they didn't speak English.

"Bubchen—" She tried to hold out her hands so that the sister would see that she wanted the baby.

"No, no—schlafen sie—sleep, please."

Lily Lou made another attempt to reach out her hands. She wanted to push back the covers anyway. She was very warm. She had been too warm for a long time, but she could not tell them. They would not listen.

The pale sister had come in, and was pushing back her sleeve, to put the needle into her arm. But she did not want to sleep now. There were things she wanted to say.

"No!" she cried sharply, but they paid no heed to her. The rosy sister brushed the wet dark hair from her hot face. Lily Lou tried to push her away, too.

"Bubchen . . . If you'd just bring him back to me—"

SINGS CRADLE SONG

The sisters, the rosy one and the pale one, looked at each other. The pale one shrugged. The rosy one pulled a big handkerchief from one of her many pockets, and blew her nose violently.

But they did not bring the baby. "Well then, bring the Professor," Lily Lou whispered. "Herr Doctor—I can talk to him. Herr Doctor—"

He at least spoke English. He would make them bring the baby.

"Herr Doctor," the sisters echoed. They whispered. "Herr Doctor—"

But Lily Lou found she could not wait for him. Her leaden eyelids fell. Darkness came again.

There was no time. Just light and dark. Sometimes they gave her cool things to drink, and then, for a little time she could float in the dark, and be at peace.

There was a cradle song of Brahms, that Gwin had taught her. She thought that she was just singing it silently in her heart, but she must have been singing it aloud, for the doctor and the sister and Mme. Nahlman stood at the foot of the bed, as if they were listening.

IS VERY SICK

Lily Lou looked at them with interest. Mme. Nahlman had been crying. The mascara was running in blue-ish streaks down her cream enameled cheeks.

"She's conscious. Darling, speak to Nita."

"Nein," the pale sister said, shaking her head.

That was all the pale sister ever knew about anything. Wrong every time. Lily Lou wanted to tell her so, and to speak about something very important, but it had something to do with the baby, and that would be hard to explain, so she would not say it just now, because she was so tired. A little later, when she was not so tired, she would ask for him again, for her funny little baby, with ears like Ken's . . .

Was she going to die? She wondered, listening to them talk, the doctor and Madame Nahlman, next time she opened her eyes.

She was very sick, she was sure of that. So sick that they did not bring the baby to her any more. Two other doctors had come. Fat men, both of them, with long-tailed coats. One had a beard.

If she had felt better she would have told them not to lean over her so much and the day sisters, flustered and respectful, kept breathing on her neck as they passed things to the doctors. But it was too much effort to speak. She just lay there. She was sorry that she was going to die, her mother would feel very bad . . . possibly she should do something about the baby . . . but not now . . . she was too tired . . .

SINGER IS ARROGANT

Once she heard Madame Nahlman upbraiding Dr. Sanders. The loud angry words seeped into her consciousness.

"If this were in the States it would never have happened. Vienna! Don't talk to me about your wonderful surgeons! What good is a surgeon without a decent hospital and a respectable trained nurse! What do these cows know about nursing! Look at what you've done to that girl. She should be as well as I am by now. Bunglers! That's what you are—bunglers!"

Madame Nahlman thought it was the fault of the sisters that she was sick. But no, they had been kind, even if they had brought her sausage when she wanted ice water. It wasn't her fault.

Presently she heard the doctor blaming Madame Nahlman. "What kind of crazy business is it?" he was asking. "Bringing that girl all over the country like that? With no medical attention. Nothing! What kind of crazy business do you call that? A girl all skin and bones, ready to get any infection that blows her way. Then you—YOU blame it on me. But you will not. I will write. I will cable her people. I will explain. The full medical report—"

"WHAT? You dare to tell me— Oh! Look here, you quack—"

They were shouting at each other. It hurt Lily Lou's head so she screamed. "Oh, don't! Please don't!"

The rosy sister came to the bedside, shaking it so that Lily Lou cried out again. And presently it was quiet. Everyone had gone.

Very slowly Lily Lou went over it in her mind. She was sorry for Herr Doctor Sanders. He would be hurt, not understanding that Madame Nahlman never meant all the mean things she said.

But he said . . . he said he would cable . . . cable . . . to her people . . .

Lily Lou sat straight up in bed. Her mind was suddenly clear and keen.

"Get that man back!" she called authoritatively, to the gaping sister. "Professor! Herr Doctor! No, no—let me alone. Call him! Quick!"

The rosy sister rushed to support her. "It is the end," she whispered in her gutteral tongue.

Ach! The pale sister fled.

Synopsis

Lily Lou Lansing has ambitions to become an opera singer. She meets Kentfield Sargent, son of a wealthy shipper. Ken is also interested in Peggy Sage, prominent society girl. Ken admits his love for Lily Lou and they go away and are married. When Lily Lou first sees Ken's mother she is told that Ken was not old enough to get married. Anxious days follow. Then Lily Lou is told by Ken's father that the marriage has been annulled. He gives her $500 and a ticket to New York. In New York she has a hard time getting a job and her money runs low. From a home town paper she reads that Ken has become engaged to Peggy. She learns that she is to become a mother. She gets a job as accompanist with Dwight Gwin, voice teacher. Nita Nahlman, famous opera singer, hears Lily Lou sing and offers to take her to Europe to study. Later Lily Lo explains her circumstances to the singer, expecting the offer to be withdrawn. She is invited to take the trip regardless and decides to do so. They go to England first and then to France. They go to Vienna, where Lily Lou becomes ill. She becomes the mother of a baby boy.

HEART OF A WIFE

By ADÈLE GARRISON

Hank Tells of Gruesome Find in the Woods

I caught hold of Hank's arm as the boy stopped in front of me. He was staggering from his long frantic run, and I feared that he would fall.

"Somebody come quick," he repeated, and I saw that he was so frightened and nervously wrought up that he hardly knew what he was saying. Some driving necessity had etched those words upon his brain and he was repeating them almost subconsciously.

"What has happened, Hank?" I said sharply, for I saw that the boy needed a mental jolt.

He looked at me with eyes filled with terrified excitement, but his manner was a bit calmer as he answered.

"Bill sent me. We," he gulped—"we found a man dead up in the cornfield."

The shock of the experience—the first of the kind, I knew, which his short life had known—had well-nigh robbed him of speech and volition. I sent a mental salute to William, who, sharing the same experience, had chosen to remain at the post of duty with the gruesome discovery and dispatch his younger brother on the easier errand—to summon help.

There was horror within my own heart at his tidings, but there was not the shocked surprise which had come to Hank. He and Bill had been warned to watch out for a fugitive Chinese hiding in the woods from the bloodthirsty miscreants who were trying to punish him for his failure to bring back Marion's lockbox for which he had been sent. But they had not been told the fear which was held by all the older members of the farmhouse family—that the luckless Chinese would be found wounded or dead.

So it had been death after all, for the former henchman of Lee Chow, who, because of absence from the country of the head of his organization had been compelled to enter the service of this gang of ruthless Oriental criminals.

Of course there was a possibility that some other man than the Chinese might lie dead in the upper cornfield. But I was quite sure of the answer to the question which I put to Hank.

"Did you see the man? Was he a white man?"

"No!"

The word was explosive. "He isn't a white man, he's a Chink."

A sudden fear clutched me.

"Hank!" I shook him slightly. "Is Bill up there alone?"

"Not now." Hank's voice shook. "He was when I left. He made me come. But I guess Mr. Underwood is with him by now."

With my hand under his arm I hurried him towards the house, questioning him as I went.

How do you know Mr. Underwood is with him?"

"Because Bill blew the whistle, as Mr. Underwood told him to do," Hank said breathlessly, "and as I ran up here the way Bill told me to do, I met Mr. Underwood hurrying along the path. I told him what we'd found and he told me to hurry down here and get Uncle Dicky and he'd go straight to Bill. I guess he must have been looking for something in the woodlot or he wouldn't have happened to be up there," Hank finished naively.

I drew a relieved breath for with Harry Underwood on the job I know nothing could happen to Bill—unless a little fear clutched me—the Chinese miscreants had found an opportunity to injure the lad in the minutes which had intervened between Bill's whistle and the arrival of Harry Underwood upon the scene.

It had been seconds, rather than minutes, I told myself, for I knew how carefully Harry Underwood had planned for the two boys who imagined themselves to be free from all espionage as they hunted for the missing Chinese. Patiently and carefully he had followed their footsteps each day, taking care that they never caught a glimpse of him, but remaining always so near them that the call of their whistle or any unusual noise would bring him to them with the minimum amount of delay.

But I knew what tragedy could happen in the space of seconds and I was as breathless as Hank when he raced up to the side veranda, where I knew Dicky was generally smoking at this hour.

Dicky was on his feet before I could utter a word and, with his finger on his lips, vaulted the veranda rail and came up to us.

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

"I pledge my loyalty to my country,
Obedience to my parents.
Love for my fellow playmates.
I will be honest and truthful in school.
On the playground,
Wherever I may be.
I will respect my elders.
Help the aged and do my best
To spread good cheer."

Several thousand children repeated the above pledge last Saturday, as they do every Saturday when they attend the meetings of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club.

The boys and girls of the Pittsburgh district have learned that by attending the meetings of the Junior Komic Club every Saturday they are assured of more than two hours of delightful entertainment. The meetings are conducted by a Grand Jester and a board of governors, elected every four weeks, by the members and when they take their place on the stage it's the signal that the fun is about to begin.

Every meeting is opened by the Grand Jester reading the above pledge and the members repeating it after him. Then the children pledge allegiance to the flag, and the entertainment starts. This usually consists of fellow members of the club singing and dancing.

At some of the chapters the children have organized their own orchestras, the chapters which have orchestras are assured of a capacity audience each week. It's really a treat to hear these youngsters play some of the more difficult pieces, and for the modern song hits, Paul Whiteman or Ben Bernie have nothing on them.

Saturday at the Enright Chapter the children held an election of officers. Manager Frank Robert's reports that he has the youngest member of the Board of Governors in the history of the club. He is four years old and his name is Charles Ross. Charles entertained the boys and girls of the Enright Chapter Saturday after his election, with songs and dances.

More than 500 children reported to Ruthie Miller and Dolly Fritz, the two talented young ladies from the Stanley Theater who conduct the dancing class every Saturday at the Enright. Miss Miller reports that if the children continue to make progress that it won't be long before she will be able to put on a complete stage show, with the members of this dancing class.

Besides Charles Ross, the boys and girls of the Enright Chapter elected the following officers:

Grand Jester, Margaret Ellen Jefferson; board of governors, Charles Ross, Lucille Hartzell, Teddy Serpagli, Jean Hackensmith, Billy Preece and Lena Saffron.

The Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters wish to congratulate the following boys and girls, who are celebrating their birthdays today:

A Stupid Attack

Philadelphia Company Tries to Justify Itself to Its Employes by Maligning the Newspapers

The Philadelphia Company, which, through its subsidiaries, has a monopoly of the electric light and power, street car and bus business in Pittsburgh, and controls much of the gas business, has found it desirable, if not necessary, to justify to its own employes its rates and practices.

Frank R. Phillips, president of the company, has accordingly sent the employes a letter replying to the charge that some of the company's rates—the 25 cent bus fare, for example—are unfair. His defense takes the stupid form of an attack on the newspapers, which brings to mind the advice given by an old lawyer to a young one just admitted to the bar:

"If you have a poor case, abuse your opponent."

Mr. Phillips accuses "certain newspapers" of being actuated by sordid mercenary motives in demanding lower utility rates. By "certain newspapers" he means, of course, the Sun Telegraph, which took the leadership in the demand for fair rates.

He says the newspapers are not acting in good faith—that they have no real objection to the services and policies of the utilities, and are not genuinely interested in getting utilities rates reduced, but are only advocating it because they think it is a popular move and will help to sell papers.

Mr. Phillips then goes on to say that "the rate agitation is merely a subterfuge under which a strong political machine is being built for use in the coming elections."

He asserts in conclusion that the papers have garbled and distorted his statements and it is impossible to obtain impartial treatment from them.

There is not a word in justification of the 25-cent bus fare, nor of the exorbitant electric rates: there is nothing in the letter but an attack on the good faith of the newspapers and the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Association.

What right has the Philadelphia Company to challenge the honesty of the Sun Telegraph?

"Those who come into court with a complaint must come in with clean hands."

The Philadelphia Company is one of the last concerns that should question the good faith of anyone. For it is still fresh in the public mind how this company and its associates in the Power Trust tried a few years ago, in the guise of a benevolent interest in the public schools, to poison the minds of school children against public ownership of utilities by doctoring textbooks of civics and economics.

It has not been forgotten that the association of which Mr. Phillips' Duquesne Light Company is a member had "Community Civics," by R. O. Hughes, a Peabody High School teacher, removed from the public schools of Kansas, and tried, through lobbying at Harrisburg, to drive it out of the public schools of Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania, for no other reason than because Prof. Hughes suggested in his book that the nation retain for itself its remaining water power resources not yet grabbed by the Power Trust.

Before the Philadelphia Company again accuses anyone of not acting in good faith, but of being impelled by a sordid ulterior motive, it would be well for Mr. Phillips to refresh his memory concerning the correspondence exchanged by his predecessor, A. W. Robertson, and J. S. Richardson, the utilities' "director of the Pennsylvania Committee on Public Service Information." It can be found in the records of the Federal Trade Commission.

Pinchot Forces Out Some More Hypocrisy

Apparently one bloc in Congress, with closed minds, is making Nero, who fiddled while Rome burned, its patron saint. These reactionary lawmakers seem more interested in preparing alibis than in contributing to economic rehabilitation.

In this negative spirit, Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, opposed to the Democratic road construction relief bill, telegraphed governors of the various states to find out how many persons were starving.

Most of the governors replied that, though many were unemployed, none had actually starved to death.

Accordingly, the solon from Connecticut encourages the inference that economic relief is not needed.

Doubtless the Senator from Connecticut will not be moved to act along economically sound lines until the governors report that the streets of America are strewn with dead who perished because of stupid mismanagement amidst plenty.

Apparently the Senator, with no appreciation of the analogy of preventive medicine, has no interest in CUMULATIVE MALNUTRITION, IN THE DESTRUCTION OF MORALE AMONG 8,000,000 UNEMPLOYED AND THEIR FAMILIES.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, in replying, disclosed the hypocrisy behind the telegraphic questionnaire, saying incisively:

"I regard the refusal of standpat Democrats and Republicans in the Senate to give relief to suffering people after giving $2,000,000,000 in a dole to big business as the MOST SCANDALOUS AND INDEFENSIBLE PREFERRING OF MONEY TO HUMAN BEINGS IN MY EXPERIENCE."

Instead of following the sadistic starvation quest, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation attempts to aid malnourished corporations and banks before they collapse, not after.

Contrary to Senator Bingham's views, the real objection to the roads bill is that IT DOES NOT GO FAR ENOUGH.

Instead Congress should pass a more far-reaching prosperity loan act for financing not only roads but other useful forms of public works.

It is not a questoin of whether the United States can afford the bond issue. The country cannot afford the present unbalanced state of business which has been pauperizing idle labor and ill remunerated farmers and as a result has been impairing ALL financing values.

Economic Planning Gives Key to Sound Farm Relief

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

ADOPTION of temporary stimulants at Washington should not divert the attention of the American people from the need of solving longer term fundamental problems.

Factories are partially closed and 8,000,000 jobless hopelessly trudge the streets because of the collapse in the demand for products.

The economic deadlock is heightened by the inequality between farm and urban incomes, resulting from the lowest farm prices in decades.

Real economic recovery must rest on a restoration of disturbed human relationships, and this includes the return of customary ratios between incomes on the farms and in the cities.

Pauperization of farmers has disrupted consumer purchasing power, and has placed production further out of tune with consumption.

A PROSPERITY loan for the re employment of idle urban workers is highly necessary to help restore consumer purchasing power in cities. Likewise, improvement in the economic position of the farmer is an important means of raising rural consumer buying power.

The Federal Farm Board has failed to PROTECT THE AMERICAN FARMER FROM A COLLAPSE IN HIS PURCHASING POWER.

Recognizing the adverse effect on trade of the destruction of the buying power of the farmer, farseeing business executives more than ever before are beginning to think in terms of EFFECTIVE FARM RELIEF.

The real issue is whether to wait for years for the beneficient results of a sounder national land policy or to supplement a permanent policy with emergency relief measures. As for the latter, France for decades has shown the way to protect domestic wheat growers. Some business men think the time has come to put into effect as a temporarily relief measure governmental supervision which will assure a living wage for farmers through the sale for domestic consumption of wheat, corn and cotton. The corollary of this is to market the surplus at world prices in foreign markets.

BUT while considering temporary help for the distressed farmers, Congress should delay no longer in adopting fundamentally sound LONG TERM LAND POLICIES.

Experts on the subject embodied their sound recommendations at the recent national conference on land utilization held at Chicago. Already two committees have been appointed to carry out the recommendations.

Nils A. Olsen, chief of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, described the crying need of agriculture, when he said:

"This nation has incomparable resources in land, labor and capital. These are assets of inestimable value in building a prosperous agriculture. No less important is the intelligence with which these assets are utilized.

"American farmers must acquire greater resourcefulness in anticipating and meeting changes in world economic conditions that affect their returns. They must adopt every economy of production and they must recognize handicaps, natural or economic, that foredoom them to failure. But it is no less vital that this nation, in the interest of a profitable agriculture and a balanced national life, adopt a national land policy that will help to divert lands to the uses for which they are best suited, be it agriculture, forestry or still other uses.

"We need a land policy that will yield greater economic and social values from the use of our lands, and at the same time stay soil erosion and wasteful depletion of our natural resources.

"The nation should replace without further delay the present policy of planless agricultural development with a program of RESEARCH, EDUCATION and legislation that will facilitate essential adjustments in our agriculture and help to eliminate submarginal lands from the production of crops."

In other words, FARMING, LIKE COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY, HAS BEEN DEVITALIZED BY ECONOMIC ANARCHY. The great need is long term planning and coordination, in place of blind, unintelligent and misguided ruinous competition.

Government must take the leadership in showing the highly individualistic farmer how to co-operate to avoid mutual destruction.

Why is a man so wobbly in love? Why can he never be satisfied with one woman at a time? Why is his heart always going back and forth, like a ferry-boat?

* * *

Your modern girl doesn't ask for a one-woman man. She knows better. All she demands is a one-woman-at-a-time-man, which seems little enough.

* * *

The old-fashioned girl used to go into a decline and pine away, when a love-affair went blah. But the up-to-date girl can "take it on the chin." She can even forgive and FORGET it. One man can't wreck her life. He can only chip a little piece off her heart and shatter one or two of her illusions.

But, while a love-affair lasts, she wants it to be WORTH WHILE. She wants it to be convincing, whether it's the real thing or not. She wants to be "starred" in the role of leading lady, not just one of the "ensemble." She wants to be the WHOLE SHOW—and she wants the show to be enchanting and glamorous!

* * *

Why can't a man keep up his role until the last kiss and the fadeout? Where is his artistic instinct?

* * *

One love at a time and that done well is a woman's motto. But, no matter how much or how sincerely a man may love one woman, he feels that he must sample the kisses of all the others, or he may miss something. He just can't stay PUT!

He likes all the courses and side dishes of the love feast served at once (like the dinner at a farmhouse), so he gets the real flavor of none of them.

* * *

Far better the villain in the old-fashioned melodrama, who "pursued the gal" (one gal at a time) and then cast her off! He loved her and LEFT her!

* * *

But your modern lover can neither love them nor LEAVE them. He just keeps skipping off and skipping back again. You can't hold him—and you can't lose him. A woman would rather be loved completely, beautifully and artistically for one whole day or one whole summer—and then forgotten—than to be loved intermittently for a life time. At least, she'd have something to REMEMBER—and nothing much to forget.

* * *

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 21.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Up and fell to thinking of Broadway press-agents of other days—Wells Hawks, William Raymond Sill and A. Toxen Worm. So breaking bread with Lowell Thomas, the aircaster, and his lady and Bob and Pat Brinkerhoff there and much rag, tag, bobtail and hanky-panky.

Then thought town to my chambers, talking a moment along the way with Montague Glass and his wife, Tippy Gray, Bebe Daniels and Sadie Murray. To my task and Mildred Cornwall came with good news of Dean and his murals for the Los Angeles Library.

With my wife to Dot and Deke Aylesworth's and came also the Rex Coles, William F. Careys, Ely Culbertsons, Frank Masons, Bruce Bartons, Frank Crowninshield, the Roy Howards, Marian Cooper, John Royal and others, and the merriest evening since Bill Hogg's 1928 Xmas party.

Someone—the publisher I presume—sent a book called "The Rise of Herbert Hoover." It has lain around my workshop until today, when I picked it up, skimmed a half-dozen chapters and had it tossed in the furnace. I'm neither for Hoover nor against him. Such biased trash, however, strengthens a lurking sense of loyalty.

* * *

Some other with a more agreeable sense of humor sends this sartorial note from an 1880 edition of an old Sun: "The well-dressed gentleman is never without his gold toothpick."

* * *

One of the most persistent first-nighters is a middle-aged, golden-haired and aristocratic lady known to the Death Watch rather inelegantly as "The Weasel." She rarely misses a premiere, and is somewhat of a mystery.

* * *

Persistent rumors the depressing pile that is the Metropolitan Opera will vanish into the maw of wreckers seem unfounded. A new opera is not a remote possibility. The whole grand opera idea has gone out like the starched dinguses grandmas used to wear. Aside from that it has failed to produce vibrant personalities such as Caruso, Jeritza and Farrar. The nearest is Lily Pons. Her voice is superb but her personality so-so. She hasn't the fire of the charmer, but rather that slick, glacial quality of Beatrice Lillie, whom she resembles. She likes to sit in her family hotel and sew while her stolid Dutch husband, August Mesritz, puffs rings from his goose-necked meerschaum.

* * *

Add lost illusions: For weeks I have been standing before the proletarian facade of a pert little doughnut shop—licking my chops and longing to sink fangs into autumnal brown crullers simmering gaily in bubbly grease. Today I did. A discarded blotter would have done as well. Or a sour strand of an old mop.

Personal nomination for the most agreeably human of all the highbrows—Dr. John Erskine.

* * *

Past the old Churchill corner strolled two stage juveniles with careers far behind them. Yet the juvenile never surrenders. He goes on thinking himself young and handsome to the unhappy end. And some of us not juveniles nurse the same silly conceit.

* * *

Over at the Waldorf an old friend told me of an iron worker aliined teetering dizzily at his task for a news reel. When he saw it he became so self-conscious he had to give up his hazardous calling.

* * *

A decadent stage now exploiting Kiki Roberts or Mrs. Jack Dismond, recalls the girls who shot the millionaire Stokes and were billed at Old Hammerstein's as the "Shooting Show Girls." After one week glum Willie Hammerstein was asked if he wanted them another. Flushing into inarticulate fury he finally screamed: "Not if they shot Taft."

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Six child prodigies—six precocious youngsters, well larded with genius—Northwestern University wants them.

If it can find them it will try a unique experiment. These children will be segregated—placed in a special environment where they will associate only with each other—given special instruction and opportunity.

Hitherto genius children have had to enter the regular university classes; waste their rare energies in conflict and competition with the common herd. In Northwestern University they will be shielded from all such unpleasantness, and—we shall see what we shall see.

And personally, just between one mutt 'n' another, I'm betting that we'll see a flop.

Bright people—why do they so often fail?

There was that young fellow who worked with you in your first job 10 years ago. Remember how he shot ahead? Certainly seemed as if he had the world by the tail, didn't it? But how about his record since then? One job after another. Always starting big—all the glitter and swank of a Hollywood first night—but, after a couple of weeks the same old thing—blowing up; tangling with someone; getting mad at some trifle; going off in a huff.

Bright fellow. One of the brightest fellows you have ever known; BUT HE COULDN'T MANAGE TO GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE.

And there was that girl who took all the honors in high school. An odd stick, wasn't she? But a wizard with books. Everyone said she'd have a wonderful future. But she fizzled out, too, didn't she? Went to college; did wonderfully here, too. But when she left the campus, things went wrong. She couldn't seem to make contacts. Became very shy and sensitive. Got so she herded off by herself. Now she's bookkeeping in a little one-horse firm.

SHE COULDN'T GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE, EITHER.

Brains, they're a great thing. IF YOU KNOW HOW TO USE THEM. But you can't learn how to use your brains by studying books and reciting lessons—or conversing with other geniuses.

Life demands more, much more, than a knowledge from text books; and the average human being is everything else but a genius.

Life demands a knowledge of human nature, an ability to adapt yourself to human nature. And generally speaking, in the struggle for success, one ounce of charm or good nature or tact or common sense is worth a ton of talent.

"But do the great artists need knowledge of people and how to get along with people?" you say. "Surely you don't have to understand human nature to be a fine musician."

But you sure DO. For art, like every other expression of our life, is based on the human spirit. Art is man's—every man's—need, expressed in words, in music, in pictures. And, unless it is an expression of our need, it isn't art.

Yehudi Menuhin is a child prodigy. When he was still a baby, he could draw from his violin music that laughed and sobbed and whispered the hidden secret of every heart that listened. And the world, wondering, said that he did this because he was being trained as a genius.

But that was not so. Yehudi Menuhin is a genius, but he was trained as a normal little boy. He practices only two hours a day, and during the other hours he works and plays with other children of his own age—ordinary, gay little people who tussle and race and laugh with him along the beach and over the sunny hills of San Francisco.

Yehudi Menuhin is learning how to be a great musician, but he is also learning how to be a great and well-balanced man; and so his music will not be something detached from human experience—a mechanical marvel—but it will be a warm, a breathing part of your life and mine.

A bright mind that lives like a lone wolf may once in a million times be of service to humanity and a blessing to its owner. But the other 999,999 times it's a pain in the neck.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

"If I should be obliged to live as some folk do, squeezing every cent in order to get something ahead, I'd prefer to wind up in the poor house."

Possibly you have had such thoughts when trimming your expense account.

Perhaps you have conducted your affairs in the past so that you have had only enough to pay your debts.

Or perhaps you have cut your expenses to a point where you are finding that many of the things you considered essentials at one time you can very well get along without.

Doesn't this show you that you might have saved a lot of money in the past had you been so disposed?

You are full of regrets because you have not fortified yourself with a bank account in case of emergency.

But what's the use of vain regrets?

The big thing now is to formulate some kind of a plan not to contract debts that may be impossible to pay in the future.

The lesson you have learned will then be of some real value to you.
